P.O.I PLACES OF INTEREST

NEGERI SEMBILAN STATE MUSEUM COMPLEX

Established in 1953, the State Museum provides an overview of the state's rich history and culture. Housed in an old wooden palace which has been restored to its original grandeur, the museum showcases a varied range of exhibits, including ancient weaponry as well as brass and silverware used by the Royal families. Next to the museum is the Negeri Sembilan House, a fine example of Minangkabau architecture.

THEN SZE KHOON TEMPLE

Perched majestically on Bukit Jung, 3km from the town centre, the Then Sze Khoon Temple is believed to be more than a hundred years old. This popular Taoist temple is also known as the 'Centipede Temple' due to the many centipedes that thrive on its grounds. The temple features many colourful life-sized sculptures of Chinese deities, a pagoda, koi pond, and garden.

SEREMBAN LAKE GARDEN

The Seremban Lake Garden covers 10 acres of landscaped grounds surrounded by tropical trees, plants, and flowers. Here, visitors can enjoy a stroll through the garden's relaxing green spaces or get active on the jogging track. Just 2km from the town centre, this popular recreational area boasts two lakes, one of which has a floating stage where entertainment programmes are held regularly.

Malaysia

Immerse yourself in the vibrant heart of Southeast Asia with a visit to Malaysia. Experience the beauty of pristine jungles, verdant national parks, and sun-drenched islands teeming with marine life. Explore modern landmarks and heritage buildings, while indulging in the rich blend of various cultures and traditions. Whether you're a history-lover, nature enthusiast, sun-seeker, or avid shopper, Malaysia has something for everyone. Embark on a journey to discover the country's many alluring attractions!

Negeri Sembilan

The name Negeri Sembilan literally means "Land of the Nine States", a reference to the nine districts that used to make up the state. Its capital is Seremban while the royal town is Seri Menanti. Its ubiquitous Minangkabau cultural heritage dates back to the 15th century. It is the only state in Malaysia where the Adat Perpatih, a set of customs based on the ethnic group's matrilineal social system, is practised to this day. The Minangkabau influence can also be seen in the distinctive buffalo-horn-shaped roofs of many iconic buildings throughout the state. With its laid-back ambience, varied landscapes, and a vibrant mix of beaches, parks, and attractions, Negeri Sembilan is a great choice for a relaxing getaway.

GT GETTING THERE

Negeri Sembilan is easily accessible via several major highways, including the North-South Expressway (NSE) and Kajang-Seremban Highway (LEKAS). Its state capital, Seremban, is about 68km from Kuala Lumpur and 270km from Johor Bahru, using the NSE. Seremban is also the southern terminal of the electrified commuter rail network, KTM Komuter, which connects the town to Kuala Lumpur and the Klang Valley.

The nearest airport to Negeri Sembilan is the Kuala Lumpur International Airport, 57km away. Direct bus services are available between the airport and Seremban. There are ferry connections between Port Dickson and Dumai in Indonesia.

GA GETTING AROUND

Negeri Sembilan is well served by buses and taxis plying both local and inter-town routes. Seremban's main public transport hub is Terminal One, located in the town centre. You can get a taxi at the Seremban Railway Terminal, the Terminal One, and the Port Dickson Bus Terminal. Bus services are available from the Terminal One Bus Station in Seremban to towns like Kuala Pilah, Kuala Kelawang, Port Dickson, Nilai, and Tampin. E-hailing services are also readily available and always a reliable choice.

S SHOPPING

From lively night markets to modern malls, Negeri Sembilan offers a plethora of shopping options, especially in Seremban and Nilai. One of the most popular shopping destinations here is the Nilai 3 Wholesale Centre, the largest wholesale centre in Malaysia. Local handicrafts and souvenirs can be purchased at various craft centres around the state, including the Negeri Sembilan Craft Complex.

D DINING

While an array of Asian and western food can be found everywhere in Seremban and other major towns, Rembau is the place to go for authentic Minang fare. Traditional Negeri Sembilan food is generally known to be on the spicy side because of the liberal use of chillies in addition to coconut milk. A signature cooking style is masak lemak cili api which literally means "cooked in coconut milk and bird's eye chillies". The state's specialties include ikan kehi berlada (catfish in chili paste) and rendang (dry meat curry) served with lemang (glutinous rice and coconut milk cooked in hollow bamboo segments).
