PUTRAJAYA

Vibrant towns and cities, towering buildings, great shopping and exciting theme parks make up the urban landscape of Malaysia's central region. This region comprises two federal territories, Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya, as well as the state of Selangor. The region boasts gleaming megastructures, heritage quarters and world-class events. While Kuala Lumpur is Malaysia's capital city, Putrajaya is the country's administrative capital. The majestic Petronas Twin Towers and KL Tower are among the country's iconic landmarks. Putrajaya is hailed as the 'Intelligent Garden City' for its harmonious blend of infrastructure and nature. As the country's hub for commerce and finance, the central region is equipped with state-of-the-art infrastructure and top-notch facilities. It is home to the country's main entry points; Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA), KLIA 2, well as Port Klang, the largest port in the country. Filled with unique attractions, the central region is a lively and exciting destination. Discover a microcosm of modern Malaysia in this region!

 KL Skyline

KUALA LUMPUR

Explore Malaysia's Bazzling Capital City

Kuala Lumpur, or popularly known as 'KL', is Malaysia's capital city and one of Asia's most dynamic cities. This bustling metropolis is a melting pot of races and cultures, and is home to a population of 3.4 million people.

One of the most charming features of this flourishing urban centre is its ability to juxtapose the old and new. Iconic high-rise buildings such as the Petronas Twin Towers and Merdeka 118 stand alongside colonial buildings, creating a delightful contrast. Green-lung areas, upscale shopping malls, themed places of interest and heritage quarters give KL its unique character. Getting around this modern city is convenient with the comprehensive transportation system, along with KL Hop On Hop Off Coach tours, GO KL free bus service and KL City Hall's (DBKL) tram service.

Visitors in search of novelty items will be spoilt for choice at the open-air bazaars, Kuala Lumpur Craft Complex and Central Market. The casual street shops at Jalan Tuanku Abdul Rahman and Petaling Street stack every imaginable item from crafts to belts, bags and electronic goods. Ethnic-style crafts, accessories and traditional Indian attire can be found at the Little India enclave in Brickfields.

DINING

Kuala Lumpur is hailed as the region's food capital for its delectable variety of mouth-watering delights. Major hotels and shopping malls are decked with gourmet restaurants, coffee houses, delicatessens and alfresco cafes.

Some exclusive restaurants offer traditional performances for visitors to get a glimpse of local culture. Like in other cities, designer coffee shops with wi-fi facilities are a popular hangout at any time of the day. As a cosmopolitan city, KL offers a number of restaurants that serve international fare. Authentic Malaysian fare which consists of Malay, Chinese and Indian food is definitely worth trying out. For a novel experience, try the local hawker-style fare where dishes are freshly prepared upon order. A number of restaurants are open 24 hours so anytime is a good time for a snack. Muslims can rest assured that halal food is easily available. To savour local delights, visit places like Jalan Alor (Chinese food), Kampong Baru (Malay food) and Little India (Indian food). So, come with a big appetite and enjoy these gastronomic adventures in KL!

Kampung Baru

A traditional Malay enclave, this area is known for its authentic Malay food. One of the most popular items here is Nasi Lemak. A perennial favourite, Nasi Lemak consists of fragrant rice cooked with coconut milk and screwpine leaves. It is served with a spicy sambal sauce, boiled egg, crunchy groundnuts and freshly sliced cucumber. Nasi Lemak can be savoured with accompaniments such as Beef Rendang, Chicken Rendang, fried chicken, fried egg, squid sambal and many more. Other great items to try include Ikan Bakar (grilled fish), Roti Jala, Putu Piring, Satay and many more.

Petaling Street

Set in pre-war shophouses, Petaling Street is a bustling maze of lanes and alleys that are filled with quaint restaurants, kopitiams (traditional coffee shop) and outdoor food stalls. A favourite spot for Chinese food, Petaling Street is the place to try out street fare such as roasted chestnuts, fried noodles, Chicken

Rice, Yong Tau Foo as well as Western delights, Nyonya fare, fresh fruits and the signature drink, Air Mata Kuching (dried longan drink).

Jalan Alor

Food lovers swear that this is one place that should not be missed while visiting Kuala Lumpur. Visitors will find a bewildering variety of street food from Char Kuay Teow, Oyster Omelette, Satay to Barbecued Chicken Wings. Cooked over charcoal grill, Barbecued Chicken Wings are a delight to the senses, with its succulent chargrilled meat and smoky flavour. The best part is, Jalan Alor is situated close to hotels and shopping malls in Bukit Bintang.

Little India@Brickfields

A paradise for Indian food, this township is situated near to the KL Sentral transportation hub. Enjoy everything from Banana Leaf Rice - which comprises a heap of steaming rice served with aromatic curries and an array of sumptuous side dishes. Don't miss the chance to savour Idly and Thosai with a selection of chicken, mutton, fish or vegetarian gravies along with coconut and onion Chutneys. You can also try out various types of breads such as Naan and Roti Canai.

Bukit Bintang

Bukit Bintang and Jalan Tun Ismail are lined with trendy sidewalk cafes that are great spots for people-watching and chilling out. Patrons can dine in a stylish ambience while enjoying Middle Eastern, Mediterranean, Western and other international fare. These restaurants are situated within the vicinity of shopping mall and hotels.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting There

By Air

The state-of-the-art Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA) is the main gateway into the country. It is situated in Sepang, about 55 km from Kuala Lumpur. Malaysia's national carrier is Malaysia Airlines which spans about six continents. Malaysia Airlines is complemented by Firefly, Batik Air and AirAsia.

By Sea

Kuala Lumpur is easily accessible from Port Klang, home to Malaysia's largest and busiest port. Boustead Cruise Centre, the dedicated cruise terminal, is situated in Pulau Indah, Port Klang. It is situated about 75 km from the airport.

By Road

An excellent road network links Kuala Lumpur to Singapore in the south and Thailand in the north.

By Rail

Kuala Lumpur is linked to Thailand and Singapore via a good rail network. Arriving guests can disembark at the KL Sentral Station, which is the transportation hub for trains, buses and taxis. More information on rail transport can be obtained at www.ktmb.com.my. The city is a stopover destination for the Eastern & Oriental luxury train which takes visitors from Thailand to Singapore.

From the Airport to the City

The high-speed KLIA Ekspres train provides direct, non-stop connectivity to KL Sentral Station, the main transportation hub in Kuala Lumpur. The journey from KLIA takes 28 minutes while the journey from KLIA 2 takes 33 minutes.

The KLIA Transit train offers a similar service but with four stops along the way, at Bandar Tasik Selatan, Salak Tinggi, Putrajaya/ Cyberjaya, KLIA Terminal 1 and KLIA Terminal 2. The journey to the airport via KLIA Transit takes 39 minutes. Tickets can be purchased online, onboard the AirAsia flights or at the counters. Alternatively, there are shuttle buses, limousines and e-hailing services to the city.

Getting Around

By Train

Kuala Lumpur has a comprehensive rail transportation system, serviced by KL Monorail, Rapid KL Light Rail Transit (LRT), MRT as well as the KTM Komuter train.

KL Hop-On Hop-Off Tours

Enjoy a tour around the city in style and comfort on board the Hop-On Hop-Off Coach. The semi-glass roofed coach takes visitors around the major places of interest in the city.

By Bus

City buses ply most parts of the city. RapidKL is the main bus company. Among RapidKL's main bus hubs are KL Sentral, Titiwangsa, City Centre, Maluri and Medan Pasar. GO KL is a public bus service that offers free rides for commuters within the Central Business District (CBD) of Kuala Lumpur.

By Taxi

Metered taxis and call taxis are easily available. Metered taxis can be hailed at the designated taxi halts.

SKY MIRROR | Sasaran Beach, Kuala Selangor

Salar de Uyuni or Sky Mirror is named after the world's largest salt flat in Bolivia which is known as the World's Largest Natural Mirror. This amazing sight can also be seen right here in Malaysia at the Sasaran Beach where the expansive stretch of mirror-like sea seems to merge with the sky. The 'endless horizon effect' creates a magical backdrop and visitors can take as many photographs as they want from various perspectives. The phenomenon happens during the new moon and full moon, when there is a thin layer of water above a submerged sand bar, creating the illusion of walking above water. Sasaran Beach is located off the coast of a fishing village in Jeram. Boat tours to Sky Mirror is conducted by tour operators.

DINING

Selangor has a wide variety of local and international fare to tempt all tastebuds. Major towns such as Petaling Jaya, Sunway and Subang offer a mix of restaurants and stalls that dish out local and international fare. Shopping malls are equipped with food courts that serve a variety of lip-smacking dishes from the Malay, Chinese and Indian kitchens along with other regional specialties. Don't miss a chance to try out the local food.

Satay

Visitors should not miss Satay - skewers of meat grilled over charcoal fire. The township of Kajang is reputed to have the best satay in the country. Flavours range from chicken, beef and mutton to more exotic choices such as rabbit-meat satay.

Tapioca and Banana Chips

Selangor is known for its cottage industries that produce a variety of snacks such as banana chips, tapioca chips and traditional cakes. These salted or sweetened chips taste great and last for a long time if they are stored in air-tight containers.

Indian Food

Connoisseurs of Indian food will find a vast array of Indian delights at the town of Klang. Enjoy staples such as rice and Roti Canai or try out tea time snacks such as vadai.

Seafood

Seafood lovers can head to coastal areas such as Carey Island, Bagan Lalang, Morib, Pulau Ketam, Banting and Sekinchan for fresh seafood.

TRANSPORTATION

Travelling to Selangor is convenient as it is easily accessible from all major cities and all parts of the country.

Getting There

By Air

There are three airports in the state. Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA) is the main gateway into Selangor and the country. The national carrier, Malaysia Airlines, operates from here. The budget carrier AirAsia operates from KLIA Terminal 2, which is situated about 1.5 km away from the Main Terminal Building. Two other airlines, Firefly and Batik Air operate from both KLIA Terminal 1 and from the Sultan Abdul Aziz Shah Airport in Subang.

By Sea

The nation's largest port, Port Klang, offers ultra-modern facilities. The exclusive Boustead Cruise Terminal welcomes passengers arriving via the Star Cruises luxury liner. Passengers from Indonesia arrive at the Passenger Cruise Terminal (PCT), situated at South Point.

By Rail (ETS)

Visitors from Thailand and Singapore can make use of the Keretapi Tanah Melayu or KTM Railway services.

By Road

An excellent network of roads provides easy access to any destination within the state. Selangor is also linked to Singapore, Thailand and all parts of Peninsular Malaysia via a system of tolled highways.

Getting Around

Taxis, trains and buses are the main modes of transportation within the state. The KTM Komuter train service offers hassle-free accessibility to most parts of the state, including towns such as Klang, Port Klang, Bangi, Kuala Kubu Bharu and Tanjung Malim. Selangor is linked to Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya (other destinations in the central region) by trains and buses. Car rental and e-hailing services are easily available.

DINING

Negeri Sembilan is home to the traditional hot and spicy Minangkabau or Minang food, which is easily available in the capital city of Seremban and other towns. The signature item in Negeri Sembilan is known as Masak Lemak Cili Api. Fast food and international fare is available at hotels, shopping malls, food courts and restaurants.

Masak Lemak Cili Api

Among the state's traditional fare includes Masak Lemak Cili Api, where the main ingredient is usually beef, chicken or fish. It is simmered in coconut milk and cooked until tender. The fiery taste comes from the use of Cili Api or Cili Padi, which is a tiny variety of chilli but regarded as the hottest. This dish is a great accompaniment to white rice.

Apam Johol

This traditional delicacy is famous in the town of Johol. Wheat flour, sugar, brown sugar and breadcrumbs are mixed and wrapped in a special leaf called Rambai leaf to preserve its aroma. It is then steamed and eaten with a sambal sauce or just as a tea-time snack.

Lemang

Lemang is made of glutinous rice and coconut milk, filled into young bamboo tubes and roasted over a slow open fire. It is savoured with a thick dry meat curry called Rendang.

Satay Tulang Jelebu

A variation of the famous Malaysian satay, this version is made of chicken meat and its soft cartilage, marinated using a special recipe of spices. The satay is then charcoal grilled until tender.

Nasi Ulam

A tasty, refreshing and healthy option, Nasi Ulam is a rice dish that is cooked with an infusion of herbs and leafy vegetables, onions and roasted coconut.

Air Jando Pulang

MELAKA

Experience Wonder and Excitement in Historical Melaka

Melaka enjoys a strategic location on the west coast of Peninsular Malaysia, along the historic Straits of Malacca, covering an area of 1,650 sq km. Established in 1403, Melaka was an important trading post in Malaysia's early history and attracted traders from all over the world. Today, it is named as a UNESCO World Heritage City. This capital city invites you to experience the old world charm of its historic buildings and architecture inherited from centuries of Portuguese, Dutch and British rule, and to witness the various customs and cultures of its people. Beyond the city are attractions such as theme parks, fruit farms, animal and nature parks as well as resorts and homestays.

Come, experience wonder and excitement in historical Melaka!

Places of Interest

A'FAMOSA FORT (PORTA DE SANTIAGO) | Melaka Tengah

Porta de Santiago is one of Melaka's most famous landmarks. It is one of the four main entrances to the A'Famosa fortress, which was built in 1511 by Alfonso d'Albuquerque, a Portuguese admiral. Even though most parts of the fortress were badly damaged during the Dutch invasion in 1641, its iconic gateway still stands to this day.

THE STADTHUYS | Melaka City

Characterised by salmon red walls, The Stadthuys was once the official residence of the Dutch governors and their officers. Built in 1645, it now houses the Museum of History and Ethnography. Next to it is the similarly-coloured Christ Church, a Dutch Church built in the 18th century.

JONKER STREET | Melaka City

Jonker Street or Jalan Hang Jebat is interspersed with antique shops selling an interesting array of artefacts and relics. Some date as far back as 300 years and can be found among a host of interesting collectibles, each with its own history and mystery. Located in the older section of the city, Jonker Street is popular among bargain hunters and antique collectors.

DINING

Melaka is famous for delicious food like Satay Celup, Chicken Rice Balls, seafood as well as a delicious range of Nyonya, Chitty and Portuguese food. You can sample these local delights at the city's many restaurants, coffee shops, cafes and food courts.

Portuguese food

Malaysian Portuguese food is a mix between traditional Portuguese recipes, with traces of Dutch, British and local ingredients. It is also influenced by Malay, Chinese, Indian and Nyonya styles of cooking. Be adventurous and try dishes such as Pasu Kaemadu (baked fish), Garing Garing Fretu (fried whitebait with sliced shallots) and the fiery El Diablo curry (Devil's Curry) while you are here.

Satay Celup

Satay Celup is unique to Melaka. It comprises a large variety of seafood, meat and vegetables – raw or semi-cooked, that is eaten with a thick and spicy peanut sauce. It is served with rice cubes and cucumber.

Chicken Rice Balls

Enjoy the novelty of eating rice balls with chicken meat, cucumber and garlic infused chilli sauce. This dish is another much sought after delicacy in Melaka.

Seafood

Grilled fish wrapped in banana leaf, fish in tamarind sauce, fish head curry, chilli crab, buttered prawns, stuffed squids, cockles and oysters – these are just a few of the mouth-watering seafood dishes offered at restaurants in Umbai, Serkam, Alai, Pernu and Kuala Sungai Baru on the southern coast of Melaka.

Nyonya food

Nyonya cuisine is a marriage of Chinese cooking styles with Malay ingredients and condiments. Melaka is one of the best places to savour exotic Nyonya fare such as Otak-Otak (spicy fish meat wrapped in banana leaf), Itik Tim (duck stew with salted vegetables) and Perut Ikan (preserved fish stomach in herbs).

Chitty food

Traditional Chitty food boasts a delectable blend of Indian spices and local ingredients. Tickle your taste buds with dishes like Ikan Parang Masak Pindang (fish in spicy soup base), Nasi Lemak (cooked Chitty-style), Nasi Kembuli (Kembuli rice) and Pulut Tekan (glutinous rice cake).

Cencaluk

Unique to Melaka, this is a traditional preserve made of fermented small shrimps known in the local language as Udang Geragau. It is usually served as a condiment together with chilli, lime juice and shallots.

Gula Melaka

A speciality of Melaka, Gula Melaka is a palm sugar that is solidified in bamboo tubes. It has a slightly smoky and caramelised flavour and even said to taste like butterscotch. Gula Melaka is used to sweeten local desserts such as Cendol and cakes such as Kuih Keria and Onde Onde.

TRANSPORTATION

Melaka is located on the southwestern coast of Peninsular Malaysia. It is 144 km from Kuala Lumpur, 90 km from Port Dickson and 224 km from Johor Bahru. Travel options are numerous as the state is accessible by air, road, rail or sea.

Getting There

By Air

Those arriving at the Kuala Lumpur International Airport can take a taxi or bus to Melaka. As for those arriving at Melaka Airport in Batu Berendam, you may take a taxi or bus to Melaka City, which is 10km away from the airport.

By Road

The North-South Expressway runs through the state and provides easy access to the places of interest within the city, especially places that are located near the Simpang Ampat, Ayer Keroh and Lipat Kajang exits. Melaka Sentral, the bus and taxi terminal in Peringgit, is situated about 6 km from the city. The terminal also houses a shopping arcade and bazaar.

By Sea

There are daily ferry services to Melaka from Dumai and Bengkalis in Sumatera, Indonesia. The Melaka Marina Complex in Kota Laksamana is a new stopover destination for cruise ships.

By Rail

Keretapi Tanah Melayu Berhad (KTMB) operates regular services from various parts of the country to Tampin and vice versa. You can take a taxi or bus from the Tampin / Pulau Sebang Station, which is 38 km from Melaka City.

Getting Around

Trishaw Ride

The best and most interesting way to discover Melaka's city's historic heart is by a trishaw ride. The trishaw will take you through streets, turning into corners and lanes where many fascinating sights await. The trishaw can be hired on an hourly basis or by distance at The Stadthuys.

By Taxi

You can get a taxi at bus stations, hotels and shopping complexes. Please agree on the price before you get into a taxi. Another option is to hire a car and travel at your own pace or use e-hailing applications.

By Bus

To enjoy the sights and scenes like a local, take the local buses or the Panorama Melaka tourist bus.

DINING

Don't forget to sample the mouthwatering spread of delicacies such as Laksa Johor, Nasi Briyani Gam, Lontong and Mee Bandung. Other Johorean specialities include Mee Rebus, Kacang Pool and Otak-Otak. Seafood lovers should head for Kukup, about 10 minutes' drive from Tanjung Piai, the southernmost tip of mainland Asia. Try these authentic local favourites:

Laksa Johor

This scrumptious blend of noodles with fish curry gravy is a Johor speciality. It is garnished with pickled white radish, onions, bean sprouts, mint leaves, coriander, cucumber and added with a dash of lime juice and sambal belacan (chilli paste) on the side.

Nasi Briyani Gam

Unlike other varieties, the Nasi Briyani Gam is cooked by sealing both the rice and meat in a pot using edible starch as 'gum' so that the meat juices infuse with the rice grains. It is then eaten with vegetable dalcha, pickles and chutney. This rice dish originates from Batu Pahat.

Mee Bandung

Another Johor speciality is Mee Bandung, a noodle dish that is eaten with slices of beef, prawns, dried shrimps, boiled egg and a sprinkle of crushed peanuts.

Lontong

First time visitors should try this unique dish – rice cubes eaten with a rich vegetable gravy. The gravy has a coconut milk base and contains a generous assortment of vegetables, soybean cake and anchovies. This wholesome meal is complemented by the flavoursome chilli paste.

Seafood

Kukup is famous for its fresh and tasty Chinese as well as Malay seafood. Select from an assortment of fish, crab, squid or cockles and have them grilled, steamed or fried. Have your meal while enjoying a scenic view of the sea. Nearby is Kukup Island, the world's second largest mangrove island.

TRANSPORTATION

Johor, the southernmost state, ranks among the country's main transportation hubs. It is 368 km from Kuala Lumpur and borders Singapore. You can fly, drive or take the train or ferry here as it is connected by a comprehensive transportation network.

Getting There

By Air

Apart from Kuala Lumpur and other parts of the peninsula, Johor is also accessible from Sabah and Sarawak by air. You can fly to Johor from several destinations in Malaysia. Senai International Airport is situated 32 km from Johor Bahru.

By Road

Johor Bahru is 330 km or a four-hour drive from Kuala Lumpur via the North-South Expressway. Both the Johor-Singapore Causeway and the Second Link Expressway connect Singapore to Johor as well as the rest of the peninsula. Bus services to Johor from major cities and towns in the peninsula are available throughout the day. Tickets must be purchased early during peak seasons.

By Rail

Keretapi Tanah Melayu Berhad (KTMB) or the national railway connects Johor to other states in the peninsula and also Singapore. JB Sentral Railway Station is the most southern station in the country. Other stations include Kempas Baru, Kluang, Kulai, Labis, Paloh, Renggam and Segamat.

By Sea

Tanjung Belungkor is the entrance point from Singapore by ferry. Ferry services are also available from Batam and Tanjung Pinang in Indonesia to Johor Bahru International Ferry Terminal.

Getting Around

Taxis and Rental Cars

You can get a taxi at the Larkin Taxi Station, bus stations, hotels and shopping complexes. It is advisable to request that the taxi meter be switched on or agree on the fare before you begin the ride. Alternatively, you can rent a car from car rental companies at the airport, or book online. E-hailing services are also available in Malaysia.

Buses

Bus services to various destinations in Johor as well as other towns in the peninsula are available at the Larkin Bus Terminal.

PERLIS

UNRAVEL more wonders as you journey up north, traversing the states of Perak, Penang, Kedah and Perlis. Discover cultures that are as diverse as the attractions – islands and beaches, rainforests and caves, temples and museums, theme parks and historic sites – complemented by a delightful mélange of things to experience.

Perak and Penang are well-developed states. Nevertheless, they have retained their old-world charm and natural heritage. Kedah and Perlis are the country's main producers of rice. They are known not only for their picturesque paddy fields and traditional villages but also as eco-adventure destinations.

The Northern Region is the ideal choice for heritage and old-world charm. Within it lie the internationally famous Pangkor Laut Resort, the UNESCO World Cultural Heritage City of George Town, Asia's first Global Geopark – Langkawi and the UNESCO Archaeological Heritage of the Lenggong Valley. Wonderful surprises abound here and there are more than enough reasons to make it the perfect getaway.

TANJUNG TUALANG TIN DREDGE (TT5) | Batu Gajah

Tin dredges were a common sight in Perak in its heyday as a tin-mining destination. Today, there is only one remaining tin dredge known as Tanjung Tualang Tin Dredge No. 5 or TT5. This restored relic is open to the public and offers a Guided Dredge Tour and panning demonstrations. Commissioned in 1938 and built in England by F.W. Payne & Sons, the dredge was upgraded in 1963 and continued its operations for 44 years until August 1982. In 1997, Malaysian Mining Corporation (MMC) donated TT5 to the Perak State Government. It is located about 40 minutes' drive from Ipoh.

SHOPPING

You can look forward to a great shopping experience in Perak. The state has modern shopping complexes, night markets and simple roadside stalls. Just about everything is available here – food, fruits, clothing, footwear, accessories and many more. Handicraft such as the Labu Sayong, a gourd shaped water vessel, is unique to Perak and can be purchased from Kampung Sayong in Kuala Kangsar. Pangkor Island is newly-declared as a duty-free island and this is an added attraction for visitors.

Those in search of quaint souvenirs can browse through the souvenir outlets for embroidered fabrics, earthenware and more. Popular shopping spots in Ipoh are:

- Enggor Handicraft Centre
- Gerbang Malam
- Ipoh Parade
- Angsana Mall
- AEON Mall Kinta City
- AEON Mall Station 18
- AEON Mall Klebang
- Memory Lane

DINING

Perak has carved an identity for itself as a foodie's haven with its varied street fare and unique restaurants. The state is famous for its hipster cafes that are often shared in social networking sites. These hipster cafes are visited by foodies from around the country. Chinese delicacies that are not-to-be-missed here are Sar Hor Fun, Hor Hee, Dim Sum and Chicken Rice with Bean Sprouts. Try out these local favourites:

Ipoh White Coffee

If you are in Ipoh, don't leave without trying the Ipoh White Coffee. A favourite among coffee lovers around the country, Ipoh White Coffee had a rich aroma and smooth taste as the beans are slow-roasted in palm oil margarine.

Ikan Pekasam

Enjoy the most famous fish in town, Ikan Pekasam. Marinated in toasted rice and salt, the fish is left to ferment for two weeks in a closed urn. The process softens the fish's scales and bones and gives the traditional delicacy its distinct sharp tangy taste. Pekasam is usually eaten with plain rice or added in fried rice. It can be found at most wet markets here.

Nasi Kandar Vanggey and Nasi Ganja

Love curry? Try out Nasi Kandar Vanggey, a plateful of rice laden with a selection of spicy curries. Nasi Ganja is another item that has carved a name for itself. An interesting point to note is that ganja actually means cannabis. It humorously implies that the dish is so good that it is addictive.

Chicken Rice with Bean Sprouts

This delectable combination of braised chicken, bean sprouts and rice is another recipe that originates from Ipoh. Fresh and crunchy, the bean sprouts here are said to taste better as they are grown with water from the limestone hills.

Seafood

Seafood lovers will find a variety of dishes at the towns of Lumut on the mainland, and on Pangkor Island.

Rendang Tok

Rendang Tok is a flavorsome Malay delicacy made with a combination of spices, herbs, coconut milk as well as beef and served with turmeric rice. It is normally served during special occasions such as weddings and important celebrations.

Pomelo

This large citrus fruit is found abundantly in Ipoh and Tambun. Roadside stalls are aplenty selling freshly plucked pomelos from the farms. Pomelo is juicy and has a subtle sweetness and a tinge of bitter aftertaste, making it unique and refreshing.

TRANSPORTATION

Ipoh is connected to other major towns and cities in the peninsula by a comprehensive network of road, rail and sea transportation.

Getting There

By Road

Ipoh is 165 km from Penang and 205 km or 2 ½ hours' drive from Kuala Lumpur. Apart from air-conditioned coaches from Kuala Lumpur International Airport to Ipoh, there are also bus services from main bus terminals in Kuala Lumpur (Terminal Bersepadu Selatan and Hentian Duta) and Butterworth in Penang to the Amanjaya Terminal in Meru Raya, Ipoh.

By Rail

Keretapi Tanah Melayu Berhad (KTMB) provides train services to all major towns in Perak, namely Sungkai, Batu Gajah, Ipoh, Kuala Kangsar and Taiping. The fastest mode is the Electric Train Services (ETS) that plies between Seremban, KL Sentral and Ipoh.

By Air

Sultan Azlan Shah Airport is located in Ipoh, about 6 km from the city. Airlines such as Air Asia and Scoot Airlines fly the Ipoh - Singapore - Ipoh route.

Getting Around

Taxis

You can hail a taxi at bus stations, hotels, shopping complexes and many other parts of the city. Please agree on the price for a round tour of the city before you get into the taxi. Call taxis are also available.

Buses

Taking the local bus is an affordable way of travelling around the state and it is also a good way to observe the local lifestyle. The main bus terminal is the Amanjaya Bus Terminal located in Meru Raya, about 20 minutes from Ipoh town.

Cars

Driving is one of the most convenient ways of getting around the state. You can rent a car and explore the state at your own pace. E-hailing services are also available.

You can also try delicious Peranakan or Nyonya food such as Mee Siam, Otak-Otak, Kerabu, Enche Kabin and Curry Kapitan. Equally delicious is Nasi Kandar, an Indian Muslim dish. Seafood restaurants offering a wide variety of scrumptious dishes are found in abundance along the coastal areas on the island as well as the mainland.

Main foodie zones include Gurney Drive. Enjoy Penang's authentic local favourites.

Char Kuay Teow

The aromatic Char Kuay Teow is one of the most popular street food in Penang. It is made from flat rice noodles stir fried with dark and light soy sauce as well as prawns, cockles, chilli, bean sprouts and Chinese chives. Duck egg and crab meat are usually added for that extra flavour.

Assam Laksa

A soupy dish, Assam Laksa tickles the tastebuds with a combination of sweet, sour and spicy flavours. A bowl of Assam Laksa comes with smooth rice noodles, shredded fish (typically mackerel), sliced pineapples, cucumber and lettuce, topped with onions, red chillis and mint leaves. The condiments are immersed in a tangy tamarind-flavoured soup.

Nasi Kandar

Nasi kandar is a speciality of the Indian Muslim community that originates from Penang. Enjoy rice with a tantalising choice of beef, chicken, mutton, fish, prawn or squid curry, accompanied by side dishes and papadom crackers. It is said that a visit to Penang is incomplete without savouring a good plate of Nasi Kandar.

Hokkien Mee

Unlike its namesake in Kuala Lumpur, the Penang Hokkien Mee comprises flavoursome prawn soup and noodles garnished with prawns, fish cake, vegetables and fried shallots.

Pasembor

Similar to dressed salads, the Pasembor is a mix of shredded turnip and cucumber, dough fritters, fried bean curd as well as boiled potatoes topped with a sweet and spicy sauce. The crunch of the fritters, the taste of the sauces and the freshness of the vegetables make Pasembor a delightful snack.

Rojak

Rojak comprises a wide variety of refreshing local fruits, cuttlefish slices and fritters that are stirred into a bowl of pungent prawn paste dressing and sprinkled with ground peanuts before it is served. This healthy snack can be enjoyed at any time of the day.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting to Penang is easy as it boasts a comprehensive network of air, sea, road and rail transportation.

Getting There

By Air

Penang has air links with Kuala Lumpur and major capitals of the region such as Singapore, Bangkok, Phuket, Medan, Banda Aceh, Macau, Hong Kong, Xiamen and Taipei. Its airport, the Penang International Airport, is about 16 km from George Town. You can purchase taxi coupons at the airport before leaving for various destinations in the state or hire limousines, which cost slightly higher.

By Road

Visitors can enjoy a drive to Penang via the Penang Bridge and enjoy the beautiful scenery along the way. The mainland is accessible via the North-South Expressway (Plus Highway).

By Sea

You can get to Penang Island from Butterworth by ferry. Fares for passengers are collected at the Butterworth terminal and no payment is required for the return journey.

By Rail

For rail travel, the destination to look out for is Butterworth, which is the main transit point for travellers to Penang Island. The fastest option is via the sophisticated Electric Train Service (ETS) which connects Kuala Lumpur to Butterworth in just about 4 ½ hours. Bookings can be made online or at the counters. Visitors from Alor Setar, Padang Besar, Hadyai and Bangkok can also arrive by train to Butterworth.

Getting Around

Getting around Penang is easy. You can hop on public transport and explore the state by taxis, buses or trishaws.

Taxis

Taxis are easily available to get around Penang. Please ensure that the meter is switched on or agree on the price before you begin your ride.

Buses

The Hop On Free Central Area Transit (CAT) takes visitors around George Town for free. This bus service is available every 20 - 30 minutes from 6.00am - 11.00pm. It plies between the Weld Quay Jetty and KOMTAR, taking you to 19 stops within this UNESCO World Heritage City. The main bus terminals are at Weld Quay Jetty (ferry terminal) and KOMTAR (ground floor). Tips: Buy Rapid Penang Bus Pass RM 30 for unlimited ride (Valid for 1 week).

Trishaws

Travel the old fashion way. Get on a trishaw, a unique three-wheeled vehicle, and take in the sights at your own pace. You can stop at any point to snap pictures or buy souvenirs. As there is no standard fare, it would be wise to agree on the price before getting on the trishaw. For extended sightseeing, it is advisable to hire them by the hour.

TASIK DAYANG BUNTING

(LAKE OF THE PREGNANT MAIDEN)

Tasik Dayang Bunting will enthrall you with its beautiful surroundings and mysterious past. The name of Langkawi's largest freshwater lake is attributed to the legend of a lovely fairy princess who married an earthly prince. Her child died shortly after birth, which made her so sad and depressed that she buried the child in the crystal clear waters of the lake.

Before she returned to her celestial abode, she blessed the waters so that any childless maiden who bathed in the lake would conceive thereafter. To reach the lake, one has to get to the Island of the Pregnant Maiden first and then take a short walk through the forest reserve.

DINING

Try the delicious northern delicacies of Kedah such as the Laksa Kuala Kedah, Gulai Rebung, Pekasam or Nasi Ulam. There are numerous coffee shops as well as western and fast food restaurants in major towns. In the evenings, you can head towards Tanjung Dawai and enjoy the popular Ikan Bakar (grilled fish) as well as other seafood dishes. Kedah also offers delectable Thai food. Try these authentic local favourites:

Laksa Kuala Kedah

Tickle your tastebuds with this local speciality – a delightful dish made from rice vermicelli noodles and aromatic fish gravy. It is garnished with cucumber, onion and herbs. Unlike other types of laksa, Laksa Kuala Kedah has additional ingredients like eels, spicy shredded coconut and boiled eggs.

Pekasam

This pungent delicacy is made from fish preserved with salt, rice and tamarind slices. The longer it keeps, the better it is said to taste. Fried Pekasam can be served with fresh chilli as well as shallots and eaten with rice or glutinous rice. Pekasam is sold at Pekan Rabu in Alor Setar.

Nasi Ulam

Nasi Ulam is a healthy combination of rice, fresh herbs and spices. It is very popular during the fasting month of Ramadan. Gulai Rebung or stir-fried bamboo shoot is another delicacy in Kedah.

Seafood

Head to the coastal areas of Tanjung Dawai and Kuala Kedah for a seafood feast with the freshly caught prawns, fish, clams and more. Grilled fish is a popular item here.

TRANSPORTATION

Kedah, one of the country's northern gateways, is situated about 450 km from Kuala Lumpur and shares a border with Thailand. To get here, you can travel by air, road, rail or sea.

Getting There

By Air

Kedah's domestic airport is known as Sultan Abdul Halim Airport. It is located in Kepala Batas, about 20 minutes' drive from Alor Setar.

By Road

You can take a five-hour drive from Kuala Lumpur to Kedah via the North-South Expressway. Air-conditioned express buses to Kedah are available from the Jalan Duta Bus Terminal and Terminal Bersepadu Selatan in Bandar Tasik Selatan, Kuala Lumpur. These buses connect to Alor Setar, Sungai Petani, Gurun, Jitra, Kulim and Bukit Kayu Hitam. Express buses and taxis are also available from all other states in Malaysia to Kedah and vice versa.

By Rail

KTMB's electric train or ETS provides daily services from Kuala Lumpur to Alor Setar. The border town of Bukit Kayu Hitam is the entry point for visitors who are driving from Sadao, Thailand. There is an Immigration Office and checkpoint at the border crossing that is open from 6.00am to midnight (Malaysian time).

Getting To Langkawi

By Air

Malaysia Airlines provides daily direct air services to Langkawi from KLIA and Penang, while its subsidiary, Firefly, operates daily flights to Langkawi from Subang and Penang. Additionally, AirAsia and Batik Air operate daily flights to Langkawi from Kuala Lumpur. If you are in Singapore, you can get to Langkawi via Silk Air and Scoot Air. Qatar Airways also operates weekly flights from Doha via Penang to Langkawi.

By Sea

Express ferries provide regular services to Langkawi from Kuala Kedah in mainland Kedah and Kuala Perlis in the neighbouring state of Perlis. The ride from Kuala Kedah takes about 1 1/2 hours. Ferry services to Langkawi are also available from Penang as well as Satun, Thailand.

Getting Around

Self-Drive

You can rent a car at the airport and explore Kedah via the comprehensive network of roads around the state.

Buses and Taxis

The main terminal for local buses, outstation buses and taxis is known as Shahab Perdana in Jalan Langgar, Alor Setar. In Sungai Petani, the bus and taxi terminals are situated in Jalan Kuala Ketil. Getting around Langkawi is easy through hired cars and vans. E-hailing services are also available.

SUNGAI LEMBING MUSEUM | Sungai

Lembing

Dubbed as the 'El Dorado' of the Malay States, this serene township was the site of the largest subterranean tin mine in Southeast Asia. In its heyday, Sungai Lembing used to be the largest producer of tin-ore in Pahang. The Sungai Lembing Museum takes visitors back to this glorious era, with exhibits such as mining equipment and workers' attire. The collection of furniture and household items give a glimpse into the lifestyle of the English community that once lived here. Don't miss the diorama, reputed to be among the best in the country.

KOTA GELANGGI CAVES

Situated about 20 km from the town of Jerantut, Kota Gelanggi Caves are known for their magnificent natural formations that are reputedly hundreds of million years old. According to legend, the caves are actually the ruins of an ancient city. The caves are also said to have been home to prehistoric humans. There are more than 100 caves in this complex but only 12 can be visited. Unlike a showcave, the caves in Kota Gelanggi are a delight for serious cavers as they are hidden in the forest and require trekking. Cavers can enjoy exploring Gua Terang Bulan and Gua Sanding. Visitors are encouraged to engage the services of guides to explore Kota Gelanggi caves.

KENONG ECO RIMBA PARK

Kenong Eco Rimba Park is located about 32 km from Kuala Lipis, at the fringes of Taman Negara. Sprawling over 128 sq km, Kenong Eco Rimba Park is a favourite among spelunkers for its numerous caves such as Gua Harimau, Gua Hijau, Gua Buta, Gua Batu Tangkup and Gua Batu Tangga. The park is dotted by lofty Tualang trees (kompassia excelsa), gigantic ficus tree, water lilies, ferns and wild orchids. It is home to elephants, tapirs, leopards, deer and other small mammals. Birdwatching is another popular activity with over 200 species of birds. Visitors to the park must be accompanied by qualified and registered guides.

Essential Information

SHOPPING

Shopping for souvenirs is an exciting experience in Pahang. There are souvenir stalls in almost every town in the state, especially in areas around Kuantan, Cherating and Pekan. Shopping malls in Kuantan include the East Coast Mall, Kuantan City Mall, Berjaya Megamall, Kuantan Parade and Teruntum Complex. Visitors in search of novelty items and unique buys can visit the craft centres. Get a range of souvenirs made of pandanus leaves, woodcarvings and batik. Among the popular shopping spots in Pahang are:

- Sungai Karang/Beserah
- Natural Batik Village
- Cherating Village
- Serambi Teruntum
- Sultan Haji Ahmad Shah Weaving Development Centre
- Kuantan MyPride

DINING

A diverse variety of Malay, Chinese and Indian food make up Pahang's culinary scene. Continental food is available in major hotels and restaurants and fast food is easily found in various parts of the state. Adventurous visitors can enjoy Pahang's local delights that entice with a tantalising aroma and taste. A number of dishes are said to have royal origins as they were specially created by the royal chefs of yesteryear.

Destinations such as Jerantut, Lipis, Temerloh and Pekan are regarded as the places to sample authentic Pahang food. Seafood lovers should not miss a visit to Temerloh, famed as Bandar Ikan Patin or 'the town of silver catfish'. Some local favourites include:

Lemang Periuk Kera

A rare treat, Lemang Periuk Kera literally means 'pitcher plant glutinous rice'. This is a recipe from the state's indigenous communities. A special variety of pitcher plant is sourced from the rainforest, cleaned and used as a mould to cook glutinous rice with coconut milk.

Laksa Pahang

Noodles and fish fillet are cooked to perfection and served with a spicy gravy. Although laksa is available in other parts of the country, Laksa Pahang gets its unique taste and flavour from its special ingredients and traditional recipe.

Opor Pahang

Made of beef, mutton or lamb, this spicy, dry meat dish is cooked with spices and coconut milk. Opor Pahang is best savoured with white rice or fragrant buttered rice.

Puding Raja

Hailed as a royal favourite, this delectable dessert is made with a medley of bananas, prunes, dates, cherries and cashew nuts. The ingredients are then served in a thick creamy sauce made of condensed milk, corn flour and eggs. The result? A dessert fit for a king!

Patin Masak Tempoyak

Originating from the town of Temerloh, the main ingredient of this dish is Ikan Patin, a freshwater fish. It is cooked with Tempoyak, a fermented durian paste along with exotic spices to create a harmonious blend of tastes from sweet, sour to spicy.

Sambal Hitam

Sambal lovers can try out this crispy and tangy version of sambal that is black in colour. Although sambal is usually red, this variety gets its darker hue from the belimbing buluh (belimbi / tree sorrel) that is slow cooked with anchovies, bird's eye chilli and onions. It is a perfect match with rice, porridge and soups.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting There

By Air

Malaysia Airlines operates daily flights from the Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA) to the Sultan Ahmad Shah Airport in Kuantan. The journey takes about 40 minutes. In addition, visitors can get to Pahang via Firefly and Batik Air.

By Road

Kuantan is situated about 260 km from Kuala Lumpur. There is a good network of roads linking the state to Kuala Lumpur, the capital city, as well as the neighbouring states of Kelantan and Terengganu. Visitors can self-drive from Kuala Lumpur and the journey takes approximately 3 ½ hours via the East Coast Highway.

By Bus

Air-conditioned express buses to Pahang can easily be obtained from Kuala Lumpur. Buses depart from the Bandar Tasik Selatan bus terminal. Pahang is also well-connected to the neighbouring states of Kelantan and Terengganu.

By Rail

The towns of Mentakab, Jerantut, Kuala Krau and Kuala Lipis in Pahang are among the towns connected by rail. The towns are accessible from Kuala Lumpur and the neighbouring states via the KTM trains.

Getting Around

Getting around Kuantan is relatively simple with the easy availability of buses and taxis. Taxis are available at main hubs such as Kompleks Teruntum, Berjaya Megamall and Jalan Mahkota. To visit the outlying places in Pahang, visitors can board the outstation buses from Hentian Bas Bandar Kuantan and Terminal Sentral Kuantan. Alternatively, arrange with a tour operator. E-hailing services are also available.

Getting to Tioman Island

Tioman is accessible from the Teluk Gading Jetty in Pahang (Terminal Jeti Penumpang Teluk Gading) and Mersing Jetty in Johor. The journey takes about 1 ½ hours.

DINING

Terengganu offers an array of delectable culinary delights. As in other states, rice is the staple food. Food is reasonably priced and visitors have a wide range of delicacies to try out. As the state is situated close to the sea, seafood plays a prominent role in its culinary scene. Fresh ingredients are said to give Terengganu's food its lip-smacking taste and distinct fragrance. Try these authentic local favourites:

Laksam

Akin to pasta, Laksam is made of wheat and rice flour. It is then steamed and served with a gravy made of fish and coconut milk.

Nasi Dagang

A great treat for rice lovers, Nasi Dagang is a satisfying, delicious meal made of rice and glutinous rice, cooked with rich coconut cream. The aromatic rice is eaten with a tuna curry and a vegetable pickle. Nasi Dagang literally means travellers or traders' rice, as it was often taken along by traders who travelled far.

Satar

This interesting dish consists of succulent boneless fish marinated in spices. Satar is wrapped in banana leaves and grilled over a flaming charcoal fire.

Keropok Lekor

A fried snack, keropok lekor is a thick, chewy cracker made of ground fish meat. Keropok lekor is best eaten with its special chilli dip.

Otak-otak

Slices of mackerel or prawns are marinated in a coconut and spice paste. They are then cooked over a charcoal fire. Otak-otak can be eaten as a snack, or together with rice.

Nekbat

Rice flour and eggs are the main ingredients of this dessert. It is eaten with a pandan-flavoured syrup.

Laksa Terengganu

Rice noodles and a fragrant fish gravy make Laksa Terengganu a simple but highly satisfying dish.

Ketupat Sotong

Seafood lovers should not miss this unusual dish. Ketupat sotong or stuffed squid features boiled squids filled with glutinous rice cooked in thick coconut milk. The cooked squids are lightly sweetened with palm sugar. Ketupat Sotong is a popular teatime snack.

SULUK TOK SELEHOR | Tumpat

Suluk Tok Selehor is one of the state's places of interest for Islamic tourism. Suluk refers to a place of isolation and seclusion to bring oneself closer to God. Suluk Tok Selehor is a subterranean hut in the Kok Pasir cemetery that resembles a Muslim grave. It was built as a place for prayer and contemplation by Tok Selehor or Abdul Rahman Bin Othman, a pious man who lived in the 19th century. He lived his life by teaching religion to children in a Madrasah (religious school). Tok Selehor feared that he would become arrogant and wanted the grave-like structure to serve as a reminder that all of us will one day return to our Creator. The Suluk remains to this very day while the Madrasah has been upgraded and converted into a mosque.

DINING

Kelantan has a delightful assortment of local fare and most eateries are open until late at night to cater to the adventurous foodies. Rice, the staple food, is creatively cooked in many ways with the infusion of different herbs and spices. Local dishes are spicy and pungent and some dishes have Thai influences.

The state is also known for its variety of sumptuous desserts. Alternatively, visitors can opt for Western food served at major restaurants and hotels. Fast food outlets are available at major towns. Try these authentic local favourites:

Ayam Percik

Crispy, barbecued chicken that has been marinated in spices and coconut gravy.

Nasi Kerabu

A rice-based dish served with coconut milk, fish flakes, desiccated coconut, spices and sauces.

Nasi Dagang

A combination of rice and glutinous rice, Nasi Dagang is often accompanied by spicy tuna fish curry and pickled vegetables.

Budu

A speciality of Kelantan, Budu is a fermented anchovies sauce. It is usually served with a hint of lime juice, chilly and onions. According to locals, Budu adds that extra zing and taste to an otherwise regular meal.

Serunding (meat floss)

A local savoury snack where thinly sliced meat is cooked until it is light and fluffy. It can be eaten with rice or used as a sandwich filling.

Desserts

Kelantan is a haven for the sweet-toothed. Take your pick from the wide array of desserts easily available in Kelantan. The use of palm sugar, eggs and coconut milk give the desserts a fragrant aroma and rich taste. Popular desserts include Akok, Dodol, Jala Mas, Nekbat, Lompat Tikam and Tahi Itek.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting There

By Air

Malaysia Airlines operates daily direct flights to the Sultan Ismail Petra Airport in Pengkalan Chepa, Kelantan. The flights depart from the Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA), which is located in Sepang. Alternatively, visitors can board the Firefly airlines which operates from the Sultan Abdul Aziz Shah Airport in Subang, Selangor. The budget carriers AirAsia and Batik Air operate daily flights to Kelantan from KLIA Terminal 2. Scoot Airlines also flies from Singapore to Kelantan.

Self-Drive

There is a good network of roads linking major towns in the country to Kelantan. Kota Bharu is situated about 474 km from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia's capital city. Visitors can drive along the East West Highway. The journey from Kuala Lumpur to Kelantan takes about five hours.

By Bus

There are scheduled air-conditioned express buses from Kuala Lumpur linking most towns in Kelantan. Main destinations include Kota Bharu, Gua Musang, Rantau Panjang, Pengkalan Kubor and Tumpat. Visitors can board the bus at Terminal Bersepadu Selatan, Bandar Tasik Selatan (TBS-BTS). The journey takes about six to seven hours. Tickets must be purchased in advance during school holidays and festive seasons.

By Rail

Keretapi Tanah Melayu Berhad (KTMB) provides daily rail services to Kelantan. Since there is no direct train from Kuala Lumpur, visitor can board the ETS train from the KL Sentral Station to Gemas, then take the eastbound train from Gemas to Kota Bharu. Visitors from Johor can board the train from JB Sentral.

Getting Around

Getting around Kelantan is fairly easy as there are buses, taxis, trishaws and airport taxis. The local bus station is situated near to Kampung Kraftangan or the Handicraft Village. The buses here provide access to various places within Kota Bharu. To go outside of Kota Bharu town, visitors can take the buses that operate from the Jalan Bandar Bus Station. Outstation buses are available at the Lembah Sireh Bus Terminal. Buses here connect Kota Bharu to Kuala Lumpur as well as other towns in Malaysia. Taxis can be hailed from any part of the town, but determine the fare first.

MABUL AND KAPALAI ISLANDS | Semporna

Situated just 25 minutes from Sipadan, Mabul offers a starkly different marine environment. The waters here contain tiny marine life, making it a great site for macro and muck-diving. Blue-ringed octopus, mandarin fish, lionfish, frogfish, moray eels and spike-fin gobies are definite show-stealers in the relatively-shallow waters. Mabul is slightly larger than Sipadan and has several resorts as well as a local village.

Kapalai is another great location for muck-lovers. In fact, this little island is rated by many diving journalists as one of the best macro-diving destinations in the world. The jumping-off point to Mabul and Kapalai is Semporna, situated about one hour's drive from Tawau Airport. The boat ride to the islands takes about 45 minutes. There are regular air services connecting Tawau and Kota Kinabalu. Transfers can be arranged with tour operators.

SHOPPING

Have an exciting time hunting for unique souvenirs and handicrafts! The state is known for its bewildering array of ethnic-style crafts, beads, pearls, accessories and other unique collectibles. For a novel shopping experience, head to the open-air markets called Tamu or visit the bazaars.

The popular shopping spots in Kota Kinabalu are:

- Kadaiku
- KK Handicraft Centre
- Gaya Street
- Tamu Kota Belud

Modern shopping malls are mainly centered in Kota Kinabalu. Among the malls are 1Borneo, KK Times Square, Warisan Square, Centre Point, Wisma Merdeka, KK Plaza, Wawasan Plaza, Imago, Suria Sabah and City Mall.

DINING

There is a wide range of indigenous specialties awaiting adventurous visitors. The rare ferns, greens, fruits and vegetables here are whipped up into a myriad of lip-smacking dishes. Aside from the local delights, Continental cuisine is widely available at major hotels while fast food can be found in towns. The cool mountain air and hilly terrain make Sabah a great place to grow tea and coffee. Don't miss a cup of the locally-grown Sabah tea or Tenom coffee. Authentic local favourites include:

Tuaran Mee

A famous hawker dish made from a batter of egg yolk and flour. It is stir-fried with local vegetables and garnished with slices of roast chicken (or pork) and more eggs.

Ambuyat

Sometimes known as Nantung, this is a thick gluey porridge made of sago, tapioca or rice. Don't let the appearance stop you from trying it out – the sticky treat is rolled or twisted around a chopstick and savoured with a sauce.

Hinava

A salad made of raw fish or prawns, Hinava is especially popular among the Kadazandusun community. The essential ingredient in Hinava is raw fish mixed with lime juice, bird's eye chili, sliced shallots and grated ginger.

Tuhau

Another dish for the health conscious, Tuhau is a fresh salad made from a ginger-like plant. It is pounded and mixed with lime juice, onions and chillies. Tuhau can be eaten by itself, or savoured together with rice.

Kelupis

Aromatic, filling and delicious, Kelupis is made of glutinous rice wrapped in a fragrant leaf called Daun Nyirik. It is cooked in coconut milk.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting There

By Air

Sabah is well-connected domestically and internationally. The main gateway to Sabah is the Kota Kinabalu International Airport (KKIA) situated about 20 minutes away from the city. Malaysia Airlines, AirAsia and Batik Air provides daily direct flights to Sabah from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia's capital city. Internationally, Sabah is accessible from Brunei Darussalam, China, Hong Kong, Taipei, Japan, Thailand, Philippines, Singapore and South Korea. The flights that operate here include Scoot Air, Royal Brunei Airlines, Korean Air, Jeju Air, Jin Air, Philippines Airlines and Cebu Pacific Air. Visitors from Australia can also arrive in Sabah via Kuala Lumpur.

By Sea

Visitors from Labuan, Indonesia and Philippines can arrive in Sabah by sea. Ferry terminals and immigration checkpoints are situated in Kota Kinabalu, Sandakan and Tawau.

The Sutera Harbour Marina in Kota Kinabalu welcomes foreign guests who wish to berth their yachts in comfort and convenience. Vessels are required to do port clearance before their crew is allowed ashore.

By Land

Overland travel between Kota Kinabalu, Kuching and Brunei Darussalam is possible via the Trans Borneo Highway. However, visitors are advised to be prepared for long journeys. Those who are intending to self-drive should plan their routes and rest stops.

Getting Around

Local buses and taxis are easily available in Kota Kinabalu although tour operators normally arrange most of the overland transfers. The local train service that connects Tanjung Aru to Beaufort and Tenom is a refreshing alternative to enjoy the scenery.

A good network of rural air service connects Kota Kinabalu to the gateway towns of Sandakan, Tawau and Lahad Datu. The smaller towns of Kudat and Semporna are equipped with airstrips.

SHOPPING

Shopping in Sarawak is an adventurous experience. The state's many ethnic groups are known for their intricate crafts and souvenirs. One of the state's most popular crafts is the Sarawakian beads. Colourful beads of all sizes are fashioned into necklaces, rings, bracelets and earrings.

Another must-have item is the Pua Kumbu textile. This hand-woven fabric can be used as wall hangings, table covers and shawls. Sarawak pottery has gained a name for itself for its distinct designs and carvings. Bamboo mats are another popular item. These mats come in various sizes and are a great idea to enhance your home decor. Some shops even offer packing and delivery arrangements for a fee.

Main shopping spots around Kuching are:

- Main Bazaar
- Kuching Waterfront Bazaar
- Sarawak Craft Council (Sarawak Handicraft Centre)
- Jalan Padungan
- Medan Niaga Satok
- India Street
- Jalan Penrissen

DINING

Sarawak's traditional delights are simply superb for those who are adventurous enough to give it a go. Coastal areas such as Damai and Santubong offer a variety of seafood dishes. The state is also a leading producer of pepper and pineapples. In the cool climate of Kelabit Highlands, the natives cultivate a special variety of rice called Bario Rice. It is harvested by hand using age-old methods. The equally cold highlands of Ba'Kelalan is gaining popularity for its mountain salt and paddy plantation.

For decades, Sarawak has been exporting high quality swiftlet's nests. Aside from the local food, visitors can enjoy Chinese, Japanese, Korean and Western food in Kuching. Major hotels around the state serve a variety of continental cuisine. Sarawak's authentic dishes include:

Sarawak Laksa

This signature dish consists of noodles served with an aromatic, tangy soup.

Mee Kolok

Handmade yellow egg noodles are used to prepare this tasty dry dish. The noodles are tossed with lard, garlic oil and black vinegar to give it the special flavour and taste. Muslim stalls offer a halal version of this dish.

Bubur Pedas

Literally meaning 'spicy porridge', this dish is made with condiments such as yam, bamboo shoots and wild ferns. It is popular during the Muslim fasting month.

Manok Pansoh

A specialty of the Dayak ethnic group, this dish is made of chicken and ginger. It is cooked in a bamboo log over an open fire to seal in the aroma and flavour.

Ikan Terubok Masin

The salted Terubok fish is popular in Sarawak. It tastes best when grilled.

Sarawak Layer Cake

Pretty and colourful, the Sarawak Layer Cake has a mosaic-like look. They are usually homemade and taste simply delicious with a cup of coffee.

Bird's Nest Soup

This highly prized Chinese delicacy is said to have medicinal properties. Try it at upmarket restaurants.

Sarawak Pepper

Bottled Sarawak pepper can be purchased at most departmental stores, supermarkets and mini markets. It is locally produced and fresh.

Sarikei Pineapple

Sarikei is known as 'the pineapple capital of Sarawak'. The variety grown here is juicy and low in acidity and sugar. Other specialties of Sarawak include Umai, a raw fish salad and Tabaloi, a traditional sago cookie.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting There

By Air

Sarawak is well-connected to Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia's capital city) as well as several other international destinations. The main airport is the Kuching International Airport. There are a number of other airports and airstrips in Sarawak, situated in Miri, Bintulu and Sibu. Malaysia Airlines, the national carrier, provides daily direct flights from Kuala Lumpur to Kuching with connecting flights to other towns. The flight from Kuala Lumpur to Kuching takes about 1 hour and 45 minutes. Direct flights are also available from Kuala Lumpur to Sibu, Miri and Bintulu.

In addition, the budget carrier AirAsia operates flights to Miri, Bintulu, Kuching and Sibu from KLIA Terminal 2. AirAsia also flies to Kuching from the states of Penang, Johor & Kelantan. Batik Air provides direct flights from Kuala Lumpur to Kuching. Sarawak is also accessible by air from the neighbouring state of Sabah and Labuan as well as neighbouring countries Singapore and Indonesia. The airlines that provide air links to Sarawak include Scoot Air and Royal Brunei Airlines. For further information on airlines routes, please visit the websites of the respective airlines.

By Sea

There are regular ferry services to Sarawak from Labuan. The staging points are situated in Limbang and Lawas.

By Road

It is possible to drive from Brunei Darussalam to Miri with Immigration procedures which can be applied through online. The journey takes about five hours. The route from Pontianak (West Kalimantan) to Kuching can be accessed via Tebedu immigration post.

Overland transfers are possible via the Pan Borneo Highway which connects Sarawak to Sabah and Brunei Darussalam. Visitors are encouraged to get adequate information from the Tourist Information Centres on the duration of journey and routes.

Getting Around

Getting around Kuching is simple with the easy availability of buses, taxis and e-hailing services. Taxis and e-hailing services are available in front of major hotels and shopping malls. Despite the vast size of the state, getting around to the other parts of Sarawak is fairly convenient with a good network of rural air services. Airports are situated in Miri, Bintulu, Sibu, Mulu, Limbang and Mukah. MASWings, a subsidiary of Malaysia Airlines Berhad, connects the interiors such as Bario, Ba'kelalan, Lawas, Long Banga, Long Seridan, Long Lellang, Marudi and Tanjung Manis which are equipped with STOL ports.

THE CHIMNEY | Tanjung Kubong

Synonymous with Labuan, the Chimney is somewhat of a mystery. The 106-feet high structure was built with thousands of red bricks imported from England and assumedly 23,000 pieces of bricks were used to restore the outer walls. It was originally thought to be a ventilation stack. Recently by ongoing research, it was discovered that there is no soot within, thus making its purpose and existence a puzzle. The Chimney is situated at the Chimney Historical Complex. The Information Centre here details the coal mining industry in Tanjung Kubong since 1847.

DINING

Seafood is a major attraction in Labuan. Fresh fish, prawns, crabs, lobsters, squids and shellfish are found in abundance. Enjoy a delightful assortment of cooking styles, such as Western, Malay and Chinese. Visitors can also try some of the specialties of this island:

Coconut Pudding

Unique to Labuan and rarely found anywhere else, this pudding is made from steamed coconut water and jelly.

Lamban

Akin to the Chinese rice dumplings or the Malay ketupat, Lamban is sweetened steamed rice that is wrapped in coconut leaves. It is eaten with chicken or beef curry.

Punjung

A bite-size delight, punjung is made of rice flour. It contains a jelly-like filling. The cone-shape dessert is wrapped in banana leaves.

Jelurut

Ideal for the sweet-toothed, this dessert is made of rice flour, sugar and coconut milk. The dessert is sometimes flavoured with durian or yam.

TRANSPORTATION

Getting There

By Air

Labuan is well-linked by air. It is easily accessible from Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA), situated in Peninsular Malaysia. It is also accessible from Kota Kinabalu in Sabah and Miri in Sarawak. Labuan is served by Malaysia Airlines, MASWings and AirAsia.

By Sea

The Labuan International Ferry Terminal receives ferries from Sabah, Sarawak and Brunei Darussalam. The journey from Kota Kinabalu takes about three hours. Alternatively, visitors can take the speed boat or the passenger ferry (capable of accommodating vehicles) from Menumbok in Sabah. From Brunei Darussalam, Labuan is accessible in only one hour.

Getting Around

Getting around Labuan is relatively easy. The island's excellent road network links Labuan's main town with other parts of the island. It only takes about one hour to go around the island by road.

Taxis and e-hailing services are the popular modes of transport. 24-hour Call Taxi Services are available. Car rentals for self-drives can be arranged.

 Langsir Cave, Langkawi

SUN, SEA AND SAND

Blessed with a year-round tropical climate, Malaysia is one of the region's top destinations for sun, sea and sand getaways. Lapped by the waters of the Straits of Malacca, South China Sea, Andaman Sea as well as the Sulu and Celebes Seas, Malaysia boasts some of the most beautiful islands and beaches in the region.

Malaysia is home to hundreds of tropical islands ranging from populated landmasses to unspoilt pristine islets. Characterised by pure sandy beaches and spectacular underwater landscapes, they provide the perfect playground for avid snorkellers and scuba divers. Langkawi, the Jewel of Kedah and home to a UNESCO Global Geopark, possesses a natural charm that is second to none. Langkawi's idyllic beaches such as Tanjung Rhu, Cenang and Burau Bay provide the perfect environment for a host of watersports.

Pulau Pangkor is a rustic beach getaway with fishing villages, lush tropical vegetation and places of worship. Just nearby, the privately-owned Pangkor Laut is one of the world's top luxury destinations. Terengganu's islands – namely Redang, Perhentian, Lang Tengah, Kapas and Tenggol – are some of the most stunning in the region with stretches of white sandy beaches and coral-rich waters. Pahang's famous island, Tioman, is considered one of the region's best island getaways with a wealth of natural beauty and underwater wonders.

Malaysia is also blessed with an abundance of picturesque beaches along its coasts. The nearest to Kuala Lumpur is Sasaran Beach, a place in Selangor that is famed among photography enthusiasts as Malaysia's Sky Mirror. Sepang Goldcoast beckons with its calm waters and rustic sights. Beach lovers can also visit Port Dickson in Negeri Sembilan, a popular beachfront lined by star-rated resorts and chalets. Penang's beautiful northern beaches such as Teluk Bahang and Batu Feringghi are charming destinations with their overhanging boulders, casuarinas-lined shores and secluded coves. Desaru in Johor is another beach getaway for those who are making short trips around the mainland. On the east coast, Pahang and Terengganu's scenic shores such as Cherating, Teluk Chempedak, Tanjung Jara and Rantau Abang possess a tranquil and laidback atmosphere.

Tanjung Aru in Sabah is a relaxing beachside retreat and the perfect spot to catch the magical rays of the sunset while Damai and Tusan are popular seaside retreats in Sarawak.

DIVING

Located at the epicentre of the world's richest underwater environment, Malaysia is blessed with an abundance of marine parks, each with excellent visibility and a thriving underwater ecosystem. Some of the region's best dive sites are located here, particularly in the waters off Terengganu, Johor, Pahang and Sabah.

Langkawi's Pulau Payar Marine Park is a great destination for day trips. There is no accommodation on the island to protect and preserve the island's delicate marine eco-system. In Terengganu, Redang Marine Park has an incredible variety of coral species. The islands of Lang Tengah and Perhentian are a diver's delight with its rich marine life. Pahang's Tioman Marine Park is another not-to-be-missed destination.

In the southern state of Johor, the islands Sibul, Rawa and Aur are equally enthralling, each possessing its own charm and character. They beckon divers with an abundance of corals and undersea attractions. Blessed with an enviable marine biodiversity, Sabah's islands – Sipadan, Bohey Dulang, Mabul, Layang-Layang, Kapalai and Tunku Abdul Rahman Marine Park – are widely-known as some of the region's best diving sites. Pulau Sipadan, located right in the heart of the Indo-Pacific basin – the world's richest marine habitat – is rated as one of the world's top dive sites. Kapalai and Mabul are also popular for 'muck diving' activities – a diving term used to describe the search for rare and exotic small marine species. In Sarawak, waters off Miri are known for its reef diving. Labuan Marine Park is famous for its wreck diving, particularly wrecks from World War II.

ECO-ADVENTURE

Blessed with a wealth of natural wonders, Malaysia is a well-known eco-tourism destination. The country's lush rainforests and rugged terrains make it one of the best places for eco-adventures. National parks are aplenty, each endowed with an incredible diversity of flora and fauna as well as impressive natural landscapes, providing the perfect platform for a variety of pursuits. Taman Negara, Malaysia's premier park, is the country's largest national park and one of the world's oldest rainforests, having been around for over 130 million years. It is home to Gunung Tahan, the highest peak in Peninsular Malaysia, and one of the world's longest canopy walkways.

Kinabalu Park in Sabah – Malaysia's first UNESCO World Heritage Site – is said to contain more than half of the world's flowering plant species, including the carnivorous pitcher plant.

Gunung Kinabalu (Mount Kinabalu) – one of the highest peaks in Southeast Asia – is also located here, forming the park's centrepiece.

Sarawak has the largest number of national parks in the country, including Gunung Mulu National Park, another UNESCO World Heritage Site, and the archeologically-significant Niah National Park. Home to an astounding series of limestone caves and rare geological formations, Gunung Mulu National Park also has the largest natural cave chamber in the world, the Sarawak Chamber, and the world's largest cave passage, the Deer Cave. Niah National Park contains two National Historical Monuments, Gua Besar (Great Cave) and the Gua Kain Hitam (Painted Cave).

Langkawi, a tropical island in the waters of Kedah, is home to Southeast Asia's first UNESCO Global Geopark for its outstanding geological heritage dating more than 500 million years.

Malaysia's hiking trails are perfect for jungle-trekking. The country's rivers cater for both river cruising and white-water rafting activities, with varying grades of difficulty. There are also plenty of rocky crags and walls to satisfy rock-climbers. Those who enjoy more challenge can scale up the peaks of Gunung Kinabalu, Gunung Tahan and Gunung Mulu. Kinabalu Park is the site of Asia's first and the world's highest Via Ferrata. The country's rough, undulating terrains also provide the perfect setting for 4WD expeditions and mountain biking.

Malaysia's lush tropical rainforests and location on the Australasian cross-migratory paths also provide great opportunities for birdwatching activities. Malaysia has a total of 55 Important Bird Areas throughout the country.

CULTURE AND HERITAGE

Malaysia is made up of a rich tapestry of colourful cultures and well-preserved heritage. The country's population is an amalgamation of varying ethnic backgrounds, bringing together an enchanting medley of cuisine, crafts, traditions and architecture.

Malaysia's diverse cultural heritage is evident in their costumes, social practices, recreational pursuits, handicrafts, food, music and other forms of entertainment. Remnants of the past in the forms of heritage buildings, historical sites as well as ancient relics can still be seen all over Malaysia to this day – a reminder of the country's rich and colourful history. The cities of George Town and Melaka serve as a living museum of sorts, with well-preserved heritage buildings and historical sites, gaining them the prestigious UNESCO World Heritage City status in the year 2000.

Fine craftsmanship is one of Malaysia's greatest cultural legacies. High in quality and rich in detail, these works of art are highly sought after and make great collectibles. Beautiful hand-woven songket and hand-painted batik textiles remain popular souvenir items, while the country's woodworks and jewellery are regarded as some of the finest in the world. Pottery, ornaments made from organic materials, metal craftworks and traditional attire such as the Nyonya kebaya are also highly in demand.

Known the world over for its abundance of culinary delights, Malaysia is the ultimate gastronomic paradise. Its multicultural social landscape gives rise to an irresistible array of cuisine with a smorgasbord of cooking styles, from time-tested recipes passed down through generations to fusion versions that give an interesting twist to classic dishes. What's more, each state comes with its own set of specialities, making dining truly an adventure here.

Experience the unique local culture first-hand by staying with a host family in a Malay kampung or a tribal longhouse through Malaysia's homestay programme. Learn more about their lifestyles and customs, as well as participate in various local activities such as traditional games and cultural performances.

EVENTS AND CELEBRATIONS

Religious occasions such as Hari Raya Aidilfitri, Chinese New Year, Vaisakhi, Tadau Ka'amatan, Hari Gawai, Deepavali and Christmas are celebrated nationwide, with the long-standing tradition of open houses adding to the festive cheer.

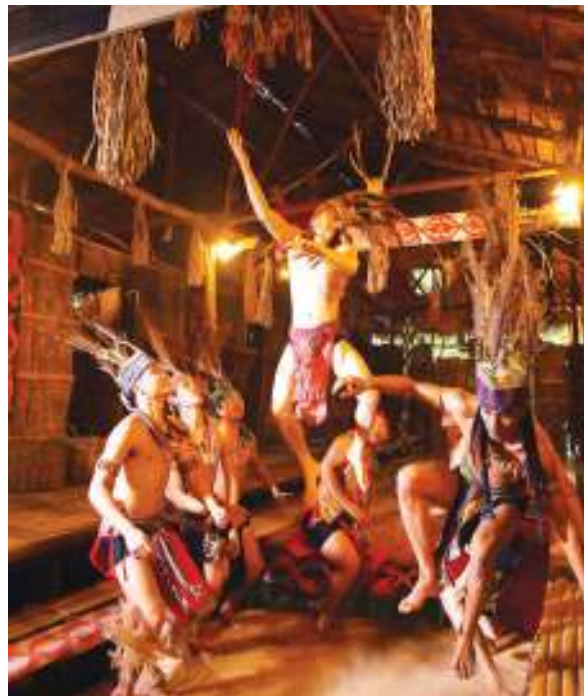

Hari Raya Aidilfitri is celebrated by the Muslim community after a month of fasting from dawn to dusk. Muslims wake up in the morning, perform their prayers at the mosque and visit the graves of departed family members before enjoying a family breakfast. Open-houses are held to welcome relatives and friends to strengthen the family bonding and rekindle friendships. Hari Raya Aidiladha is another major Muslim festivals which marks the culmination of the pilgrimage to Makkah.

Chinese New Year or Lunar New Year is ushered in with Dragon and Lion Dances. Plum blossoms and decorations can be seen filling the streets while mandarin oranges are given out as a symbol of luck and prosperity. Red packets of money (ang pow) is also given out by elders.

Cultural festivals such as Hari Gawai and Tadau Ka'amatan are harvest festivals celebrated by the ethnic communities of Sabah and Sarawak. They are an incredible spectacle with cultural costumes, dances, beauty pageants and lots of merriment. Among the Chinese community, the Mid-Autumn Festival is anticipated greatly. The festival is observed with lantern processions and delicious mooncakes in various shapes, colours and flavours.

The Indian festival of Thaipusam falls on the full-moon day in the auspicious 10th Tamil month of Thai. During this time, thousands of devotees and curious onlookers throng Batu Caves where a colourful procession of devotees bearing ornate frames known as 'kavadi' climb all the way up to the Temple Cave in a vibrant display of unwavering faith and devotion.

The Sikh community celebrates Vaisakhi with lots of gaiety and enthusiasm. This religious observation marks the inauguration of the Khalsa in the late 17th century. Members of the Sikh community visit the Gurdwara (place of worship) and share a communal lunch. As in other parts of the world, Christmas is celebrated here, but with a touch of tropical charm. Visitors will see huge Christmas trees, complete with tassels and trimmings at shopping malls, hotels and offices.

The country also celebrates numerous other occasions such as National Day, Federal Territory Day, New Year and many more. With its diversity of races and cultures, Malaysia dazzles with year-round festivals and celebrations!

SPORTS AND ACTIVITIES

Malaysia plays host to a number of prestigious world-class events throughout the year ranging from regattas, races to touring exhibitions. Highly-acclaimed international events such as the Royal Langkawi International Regatta, Le Tour de Langkawi, Penang International Dragon Boat Festival, Pasir Gudang World Kite Festival, Putrajaya International Hot Air Balloon Fiesta, Royal Pahang Billfish International Challenge and KL Tower International Jump Malaysia have placed the country on the world map.

Facilities such as the Sepang International Circuit, Bukit Jalil National Stadium, Labuan International Sea Sports Complex and Mahsuri International Exhibition Centre are full-fledged venues for large-scale events.

A renowned golfing destination, Malaysia has hundreds of golf courses situated all over the country. Many of these courses are of international standard and located amidst various settings – by the beach, high up in the hills, in or in the middle of the rainforest – giving a truly unique golfing experience. Some are designed by the world's top names such as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Greg Norman. For a more unusual golfing experience, try night golfing.

Malaysia is also becoming an increasingly popular destination for equestrian sports. With many equestrian clubs and centres sprouting all over the country, horseback-riding has become not just a popular recreational pursuit, but also an interesting way to see the country's hinterland. The calm waters along Malaysia's shores and around its islands are perfect for a variety of water sports. With a number of marinas around the country offering complete sailing facilities and safe anchorage assurance, yachting is fast becoming popular among the adventurous.

Other recreational activities such as jet-skiing, kayaking, parasailing and windsurfing are also widely popular. Malaysia's densely populated waters are also a favourite among fishing and angling enthusiasts. The coasts of Sabah and Sarawak are home to some of the country's finest bluewater species, while the island of Labuan is located close to the prime fishing areas.

For adrenalin-junkies, Malaysia's offers a number of extreme sports such as Flyboarding, Ziplining and Zorbing.

SHOPPING

When it comes to shopping, Malaysia is regarded as one of the premier shopping destinations in the region. Whether your preference is luxury or affordable shopping, you're likely to find whatever your heart desires here. Look out for bargains and special offers especially during festive seasons. Sprawling shopping complexes and lifestyle malls with everything under one roof can be found in major cities, especially Kuala Lumpur and Selangor. Areas such as Bukit Bintang-KLCC are well-known shopping districts offering everything from designer labels to computer peripherals. These malls do not only offer retail therapy, but also a host of dining and entertainment options from bowling arena to cineplexes.

Duty-free shopping is available on the islands of Tioman, Pangkor, Langkawi and Labuan as well as along the Thailand-Malaysia border and in the airports. Those looking for traditional handicrafts and ethnic souvenirs can find them in craft centres around the country. Among the most sought after local crafts include fabrics such as Batik, Songket, Kain Tenun and Pua Kumbu, as well as items fashioned out of pewter, silver and woodcrafts. Craft centres such as Kuala Lumpur Craft Complex offer unique handmade items. Find a bewildering choice of local souvenirs at places such as Pasar Seni (Central Market) and Petaling Street (Chinatown) in Kuala Lumpur. There are also flea markets that are decked with irresistible curios and collectibles. Every state has its own treasures found in places such as Pasar Payang in Terengganu, Siti Khadijah Market in Kelantan and Jonker Street in Melaka.

SPA AND WELLNESS

Be it on a tropical island or in the city centre, Malaysia is home to some of the world's top spas. With an ideal tropical setting and world-class facilities, Malaysia's position as a top spa destination is increasingly acknowledged worldwide.

There are many types of spa offering a wide range of therapies. Day spas and hotel or resort spas are the types most commonly found, while destinations spas and medical spas are fast gaining popularity. The therapies are mainly of Asian origin, such as Malay, Chinese, Indian, Peranakan (Straits Chinese) and Balinese. Performed by trained therapists, the spa menu mainly consists of home-grown herbs and locally-produced ingredients. Many spas, especially the established ones, offer a variety of packages and a whole range of therapies, which include full-body massage, hair treatment, pedicure, manicure, facial, sauna and steam baths, body wraps, mud baths and body scrubs.

OTHERS

Malaysia garners interest as a favourite destination for a host of other reasons. Malaysia offers same, if not better, standard of services and facilities as more-developed nations but at much lower costs. The country is a top-of-the-mind destination among those who seek quality healthcare and education, retirement in foreign countries as well as cost-effective Meetings, Incentives, Conventions and Exhibitions (MICE) facilities.

Malaysia My Second Home (MM2H)

The Malaysia My Second Home (MM2H) Programme is open to citizens of countries recognised by Malaysia regardless of race and gender, and provides them with the opportunity to enjoy their time off in Malaysia for as long as they wish. A renewable multiple-entry social visit pass is granted to successful participants, which allows them to bring along their spouses, unmarried children below the age of 21 years and parents above the age of 60 years.

Education

Malaysia has a well-developed education system, with highly-recognised educational institutions from international schools to branch campuses of international universities. English is primarily used as the mode of communication in these institutions. A number of higher learning institutions also offer twinning programmes in collaboration with established international institutions. From short-term language courses to post-graduate degrees, the country offers an extensive range of options and internationally-recognised qualifications.

Business

With its warm tropical climate and beautiful natural surroundings coupled with a stable political environment and state-of-the-art facilities, Malaysia is a favourite destination for business travellers. Hotels and convention centres equipped with extensive MICE facilities are amply available all over the country. Choose from the variety of locations in different settings – by the beach, at the city's bustling business district, or far away at the highlands. There is also the added option of incorporating themed events and corporate games, throwing an element of fun and excitement into the mix.

TIPS FOR TOURISTS

CUSTOMS AND ETIQUETTE

- Shoes must always be removed when entering homes or places of worship such as mosques and temples. Most mosques provide robes and scarves for ladies. Taking photographs at places of worship is usually permitted but it's best to ask for permission first.
- While visiting a homestay village, please be respectful of local customs and traditions.
- When sitting on the floor, men sit cross-legged while women normally sit with their legs tucked to the side.
- When pointing, it is preferable to use the thumb with the four fingers folded under, rather than the forefinger.
- To give or receive something, try to use the right hand.
- Always ask for permission before taking photographs when you are in someone's home.
- The country's large Muslim population does not consume liquor or alcoholic beverages.
- The weather is generally warm with occasional torrential showers. Cotton clothes, rubber shoes and sun hats are the best.
- Be respectful when you are at public ceremonies.
- National parks are protected areas and visitors are advised to take note of the strict laws that govern these areas. Take nothing but photographs and leave nothing but footprints. A national park conservation fee will be imposed upon entry.
- The sea can be rough during the monsoon season between October and February. Visitors are advised to practice caution while at the beach, especially if there are children. Established beach resorts continue to operate during this season but smaller chalets on the islands may be closed.

MALAYSIA AT A GLANCE

COUNTRY

The federation of Malaysia comprises Peninsular Malaysia, which is made up of 11 states, three Federal Territories as well as the states of Sabah and Sarawak situated in Borneo.

CAPITAL CITY

Kuala Lumpur

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION

Lying 2° to 7° north of the Equator, Peninsular Malaysia is separated from Sabah and Sarawak by the South China Sea. The Peninsular shares a common border with Thailand in the north, while its southern neighbour is Singapore. Sabah and Sarawak share a common border with Indonesia while Sarawak also shares a border with Brunei Darussalam.

AREA

329,758 sq km

TIME

The standard Malaysian time is eight hours ahead of GMT and 16 hours ahead of the U.S. Pacific Standard Time.

POPULATION

33.4 million

PEOPLE

Malaysia has a diverse population. Its multicultural fabric is made up of the Malays, who form the majority of the population, as well as the Chinese, Indians, Portuguese Eurasians and Straits Chinese, along with the indigenous communities of Peninsular Malaysia and the ethnic groups of Sabah and Sarawak.

LANGUAGE

Bahasa Malaysia (Malay) is the national language but English is widely spoken. Malaysians also speak various languages and dialects.

RELIGION

Islam is the official religion but all other religions are practised freely.

GOVERNMENT

Malaysia practices parliamentary democracy and constitutional monarchy. The Head of State is the Yang di-Pertuan Agong and the Head of Government is the Prime Minister. The country has a bicameral legislative system.

CLIMATE

Malaysia has a tropical climate and the weather is warm all year round. Temperatures range from 21°C to 32°C and the annual rainfall varies from 2,000 mm to 2,500 mm.

ECONOMIC PROFILE

Manufacturing constitutes the largest component of Malaysia's economy while tourism and primary commodities such as petroleum, palm oil, natural rubber and timber are major contributors to its economy.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Visitors must be in possession of a valid passport or travel document with a minimum validity of six months beyond the intended visiting period. Citizens of most countries do not require visas for social or business visits. For further information, please visit or call the nearest Malaysian diplomatic mission or Tourism Malaysia office.

CURRENCY

The unit of currency is the Malaysian Ringgit, which is denoted as RM or MYR. Foreign currencies can be converted at banks and money changers. Transactions can be carried out using the Malaysian currency or via credit cards and online banking services. Of late, cashless transactions such as e-wallets and mobile payments have grown in popularity. Cashless transactions can be found in most establishments in the cities.

BANKING HOURS

In most states, banks are open from Monday to Friday from 9.15 am to 4.30 pm. In Kelantan and Terengganu, banks are closed on Friday and Saturday. Check the websites of the relevant banks for details on operating hours and rest days. Online banking services are available.

WORKING DAYS

Most states observe Monday to Friday as working days while Saturday and Sunday are rest days. In the states of Johor, Kedah, Kelantan and Terengganu, working days are from Sunday to Thursday. Friday and Saturday are observed as rest days. This applies to government offices and many private establishments.

ELECTRICITY

The voltage used throughout Malaysia is 220 - 240 volts AC, at 50 cycles per second. Standard 3-pin square plugs and sockets are used.

COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

Malaysia is linked internationally via the Internet. There is a stable 4G mobile network coverage in the country. Wi-fi connection is available at most hotels, restaurants and transport terminals. Upon arrival, travellers can easily get a local prepaid SIM card at airports or shopping malls. The package comes with preloaded credit and data. Travellers will be required to present their passport/ID for registration when purchasing the SIM cards.

GETTING TO MALAYSIA

The main gateway to Malaysia is the Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA) which is also known as KLIA Terminal 1. It is located about 40 km south of Kuala Lumpur. Over 40 international airlines fly into the country via KLIA.

Malaysia Airlines, the national carrier, is a member of the oneworld airline alliance and offers connectivity to 1,000 destinations over 170 territories.

KLIA Terminal 2 (formerly known as KLIA 2), is situated about 1.5 km away from the main terminal and serves as the world's largest terminal dedicated to low-cost carriers. Airlines that operate from Terminal 2 include AirAsia and AirAsia X. Other international airports in the country are situated in Langkawi, Penang, Johor Bahru, Kota Kinabalu and Kuching. Skypark Terminal or Sultan Abdul Aziz Shah Airport in Subang is the main base for Firefly, Batik Air and private carriers.

The country's largest seaport is Port Klang, a major shipping and cargo terminal. Other main entry points by sea are located in Langkawi, Penang, Melaka, Johor, Labuan, Kuching and Kota Kinabalu.

GETTING AROUND

Malaysia has excellent domestic air links serviced by Malaysia Airlines as well as carriers such as AirAsia, Firefly and Batik Air. The country has a well-developed and efficient public transportation system served by buses, taxis as well as trains. GrabCar and other e-hailing services are available in Malaysia.
