RUMAH TOK SU AND RUMAH SERI BANAI (MALAY TRADITIONAL HOUSES)
Nestled in a scenic garden, these two houses are typical examples of Kedah's traditional Malay homes. These houses used to be privately owned homes that were restored and relocated. The 100-year old Rumah Tok Su comprises six main sections and is supported by 34 pillars. It was brought from its original location in Bandar Baharu, about 100km from Alor Setar. Rumah Seri Banai was relocated from its original site in Kampung Banai.

KEDAH STATE MUSEUM
Built in 1936, the museum is a showcase and repository of Kedah's rich cultural heritage. Its three floors of exhibits include antique weaponry, jewellery, costumes and furniture. Exhibits include artefacts from the Bujang Valley archaeological excavations and a bunga emas (ornate gold tree) which was offered as a tribute to the King of Siam during ancient times.

MASJID ALBUKHARY (ALBUKHARY MOSQUE)
The beautiful Albukhary Mosque was built by the Albukhary Foundation which carries out numerous charitable initiatives. Covering an area of 4.96 acres, the mosque can accommodate 15,000 worshippers at one time. Inspired by Islamic architecture from Turkey and Iran, the mosque boasts seven blue domes including the main dome which measures 14m in diameter. Its minaret is designed after the mosques in Madinah and Egypt.

MENARA ALOR SETAR (ALOR SETAR TOWER)
Standing majestically at 165.5m, Alor Setar Tower is the second tallest tower in Malaysia after its counterpart, KL Tower. It is also one of the tallest telecommunications towers in the world. This state-of-the-art structure has an observation deck and a revolving restaurant that offers scenic views of the surroundings. From afar, the tower's design resembles a huge bunch of paddy stalks that are tied together, reflecting Kedah's status as Malaysia's main rice producer.

WAT NIKRODHARAM THAI BUDDHIST TEMPLE
Situated between Jalan Telok Wanjah and Jalan Stadium, this striking Buddhist temple is a sight to behold. Built in 1968, the temple has a beautiful pediment and ornate carvings that reflect Thai and Chinese design elements. Every year, on Wesak Day, the temple attracts a stream of devotees from near and far.

RUMAH MERDEKA
This historical building used to be the residence of Tunku Abdul Rahman Putra, Malaysia's first Prime Minister. The house was the premier's private retreat whenever he returned to Kedah. Equipped with audio visual aids, the house exhibits the original furniture, photographs, personal effects and souvenirs of the beloved statesman. It was here that Tunku pursued his creative writing, entertained foreign dignitaries and organised successful election strategies.

SULTAN ABDUL HALIM MU'ADZAM SHAH GALLERY
Officially opened in 2007, the gallery pays tribute to Sultan Abdul Halim Mu'adzam Shah, the 14th King of Malaysia. It displays a vast collection of exhibits including charts of the royal lineage as well as photographs, personal effects and memorabilia of the King and other members of the royal family. The gallery is housed in a historical building that was erected in 1922. It used to serve as the Alor Setar High Court.

BIG CLOCK BUILDING
A historical bell tower that keeps time, the Big Clock Building is associated with several other buildings in the area. Built in 1912, this building had an important function – to announce the Muslim prayer time. In the past, the clock would ring at prayer time, prompting the beating of the gongs at the nearby Balai Nobat. Then, the muezzin at Masjid Zahir would begin the azan, or the Muslim call to prayer.

BALAI NOBAT
A three-tiered tower with an onion-shaped dome, Balai Nobat or Nobat Hall is a repository of instruments that belong to the Royal Orchestra. The nine piece ensemble includes serunai (flute), nafiri (a long trumpet), gendang (drum) and gong. The melodious nobat music is only played during royal ceremonial occasions such as inaugurations and weddings. Visitors can view Balai Nobat from the outside.

MASJID ZAHIR (ZAHIR MOSQUE)
Built in 1912, Masjid Zahir is one of the oldest and most beautiful mosques in the country. Occupying an area of 124,412 sq ft, the mosque was built on the burial site of warriors who died defending Kedah against Siam in 1821. It has one main dome and five smaller domes which represent the five pillars of Islam. The design of this mosque is inspired by the Aziz Mosque in Langkat, North Sumatera. Masjid Zahir is regularly voted as one of the top ten most beautiful mosques in the world.

BALAI BESAR
Built in 1898, Balai Besar translates to Grand Audience Hall. This wooden pavilion was originally erected in 1735 by His Royal Highness Sultan Muhammad Jiwa Zainal Adilin Muazzam Shah, the 19th Sultan of Kedah. However, it was destroyed after attacks by Bugis and Siam. In 1904, during the reign of Sultan Abdul Halim Shah, the hall was restored for the wedding ceremonies of five princes and princesses. Balai Besar was also used for installation ceremonies and conferences.

MUZIUM DIRAJA (ROYAL MUSEUM)
Situated next to Balai Besar, the Royal Museum displays the regalia of the royal family. Erected in 1735, this building was originally built as a palace when Alor Setar was declared as the capital city of Kedah. It was known by several other names such as Istana Kota Ser, Istana Mak Wan Besar, Istana Pelamin or Rumah Pelamin. During the war, the palace fell to the hands of the Japanese forces. It was restored in 1983 and made into a Royal Museum.
Tel: 04-733 1162

BALAI SENI NEGERI KEDAH (KEDAH STATE ART GALLERY)
Balai Seni Negeri Kedah is a beautiful building with strong Colonial influences. One of the earliest modern buildings in Alor Setar, it has five sections housing antiques, relics and art pieces by renowned Malaysian artists such as AB Ibrahim. Built in 1912, the building served as the High Court before it was converted into the Head Office of several government departments. It was made the State Art Gallery in 1983.
Tel: 04 723 7937

TANJUNG CHALI
Situated along the Kedah River, Tanjung Chali waterfront is an ideal recreation spot. A major green lung of Alor Setar, the area has a park, town square and tower. There is also a food court in the vicinity where visitors can sample local snacks and specialties.

PEKAN RABU
Pekan Rabu literally means 'Wednesday Market' in Malay, simply because it used to operate once a week on Wednesdays. Malaysia's fourth Prime Minister, Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, worked as a trader here when his studies were interrupted during the Japanese occupation. This bustling bazaar offers some 350 stalls selling a wide range of products. Get everything from farm produce to apparel, traditional handicrafts and local delicacies. Pekan Rabu is open daily.

SULTAN ABDUL HAMID COLLEGE
Established in 1908, this is one of the most prestigious learning institutions in the country. The first principal of this college was Encik Mohamad Iskandar, the father of Tun Mahathir Mohamad, Malaysia's fourth Prime Minister. Sultan Abdul Hamid College has an illustrious alumni list including His Royal Highness the Sultan of Kedah, the Regent of Kedah as well as the first and fourth Prime Ministers of Malaysia.

TUN DR. MAHATHIR'S BIRTHPLACE
This traditional wooden house was the birthplace and early home of Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, Malaysia's fourth and longest-serving Prime Minister. It holds many stories of the former premier's formative years under the strict guidance of his father. Exhibits include furniture, documents, school photographs and many more. The complex consists of two exhibition halls, an auditorium, an office, a souvenir shop and the first ice factory in Alor Setar.

LANGKAWI
A cluster of 99 glorious islands, Langkawi boasts emerald waters, stretches of white sandy beaches and natural attractions. It is famed as one of the region's best holiday destinations, offering superb beach resorts, an international airport, picturesque golf courses and well-equipped marinas. Langkawi has the distinction of being Southeast Asia's first UNESCO Global Geopark, a status accorded for its geological formations. Kuah, the island's main entry point and administrative centre, beckons with more sightseeing spots. Website: www.lada.gov.my

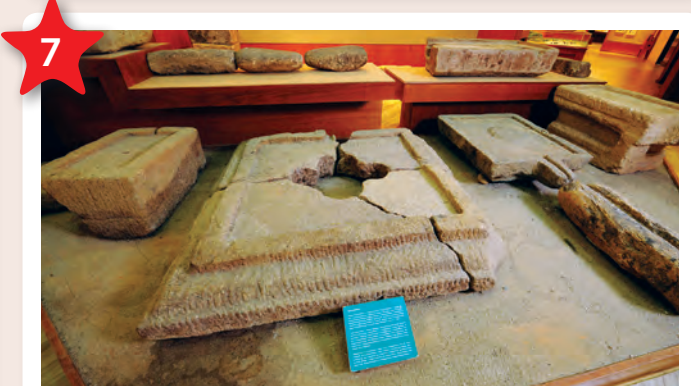

GUNUNG JERAI
Gunung Jerai is Kedah's oldest hill resort and recreational park. Standing at 1,200 m above sea level, this legendary mountain is also the highest peak in Kedah. In days of yore, Gunung Jerai was a landmark for ships that sailed along the waters. The mountain and its surroundings are ideal for nature-based activities such as hiking, camping and mountain biking. On the way to the top, stop by at the Forestry Museum (Muzium Perhutanan). Resort accommodation is located atop the hill. Visitors can enjoy a panoramic view of the sea and nearby islands.

ULU MUDA ECO PARK
Tucked away in the northeastern corner of Kedah, this remote 120,000 ha forest is known as a sanctuary for endangered and rare wildlife. The area is home to 109 species of mammals, 54 species of reptiles, 33 species of fish and 200 species of bird. Activities include camping, birdwatching, fishing and jungle trekking. The entry point to the park is from Gubir Jetty. Accommodation is available in Gubir and at the nearby Pudu Lake.

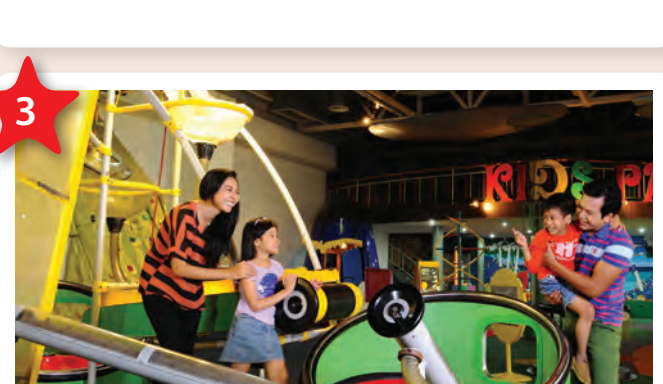

GUNUNG KERIANG
Gunung Keriang is an elephant shaped limestone formation. It is a favorite spot for caving, hiking and jungle trekking. Explorers can enjoy a lovely view of the rustic countryside and sprawling paddy plantations. This limestone hill also contains nearly 10 different types of rocks, including crystal formations. Gunung Keriang Recreational Park has walking trails with concrete railings and gazebos. This nature-lover's getaway is situated about 12km from Alor Setar, near the Paddy Museum.

BUJANG VALLEY ARCHAEOLOGY MUSEUM
Sprawling some 400 sq km, Lembah Bujang or Bujang Valley is one of the richest archaeological sites in the country. At the zenith of its fame from the 3rd to the 12th century AD, Bujang Valley was a vibrant trading centre and a flourishing kingdom. More than 20 candis or ancient temples have been unearthed in the area. This museum showcases nearly 1,000 artefacts that were recovered from the buried civilisation.
