P. RAMLEE'S HOUSE
The restored house of Malaysia's movie legend, the late P. Ramlee, is located fittingly on Jalan P. Ramlee in George Town. This Malay kampong house where he was born in 1929 belonged to his grandmother. It has been furnished to resemble its original setting. Adjacent to the house is a gallery which is a tribute to his career spanning the 50s and 60s.

CHEONG FATT TZE MANSION
The mansion's distinctive indigo-blue outer wall earns it the nickname 'The Blue Mansion'. Built in the 1880s by the wealthy Cheong Fatt Tze, the award-winning mansion is a combination of Siu Chow Dynasty period architecture, English fittings and Art Nouveau stained glass windows, with careful attention to feng shui, the Chinese art of geomancy. The mansion also serves as a boutique hotel, offering a truly unique heritage experience.

CLAN JETTIES
The Clans Jetties are one of the last bastions of old Chinese settlements with enclaves of wooden still houses perched over the sea. With the construction of the quay in 1882, the waterfront was developed and settlements grew around these foundations. Gradually each jetty is identified with certain clans. The Chew Jetty is the largest and most well-known, with the most number of still houses and longest unbroken walkway as well as a temple.

PENANG STATE ART GALLERY
The art gallery is dedicated to works of local artists and paintings of old Penang. Previously located within the Penang State Museum, it has now been moved to Dewan Sri Pinang. There are two galleries displaying a collection of permanent paintings at level 3 and a contemporary gallery on the ground floor. Various activities are held here throughout the year including forum, art talk, painting workshops and competition.

FORT CORNWALLIS
The history of Fort Cornwallis goes back two centuries to when Captain Sir Francis Light of the British East India Company first landed on the island in 1786. In order to protect the base from any foreign military forces and pirates, the Captain decided to build a fort, named after the then Governor General in Bengal. The fort is a preserved historical landmark within the George Town UNESCO World Heritage Site.

CHOWRASTA BAZAAR
Operating since the late 1800s, Chowrasta Bazaar is divided into several sections. In the front are stalls selling local products including pickled nutmeg, durian cake, medicinal oils and balms. The wet market is at the back with stalls selling fresh produce. The upper level is a treasure trove of shoe and clothes stalls, coffee shops and even secondhand bookstores.

PENANG STATE MUSEUM
Located on Farquhar Street in the city centre, the museum – together with the art gallery – was opened in 1965 with an emphasis on local history, art and crafts. The museum is divided into galleries dedicated to Penang's historical communities, as well as particular historical events. It also houses a fine collection of old photographs, maps, Chinese furniture, embroidery, costumes and other relics.

STREET OF HARMONY
A short walk along Jalan Masjid Kapitan Keling, otherwise known as the Street of Harmony, demonstrates how the island's four main communities can coexist peacefully. At the northern end of the street is St. George's Church, the first Anglican church in Southeast Asia. Just minutes away is the Goddess of Mercy Temple, one of Penang's oldest surviving buildings dating back to 1800s. Visitors will also find the Sri Maha Mariamman Kovil, the oldest Hindu temple on the island. Further along the street, the minaret and dome of the imposing Kapitan Keling Mosque rise above the rooftops.

QUEEN VICTORIA MEMORIAL CLOCK TOWER
Located south of Fort Cornwallis, the Queen Victoria Memorial Clock Tower was commissioned in 1897 to commemorate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. This gleaming whitewashed tower is topped by a Moorish dome, with four distinct sections featuring a working clock on each side. Although hardly noticeable, the clock tower leans slightly to one side due to the impact of bombs dropped around it during World War II.

D Dining

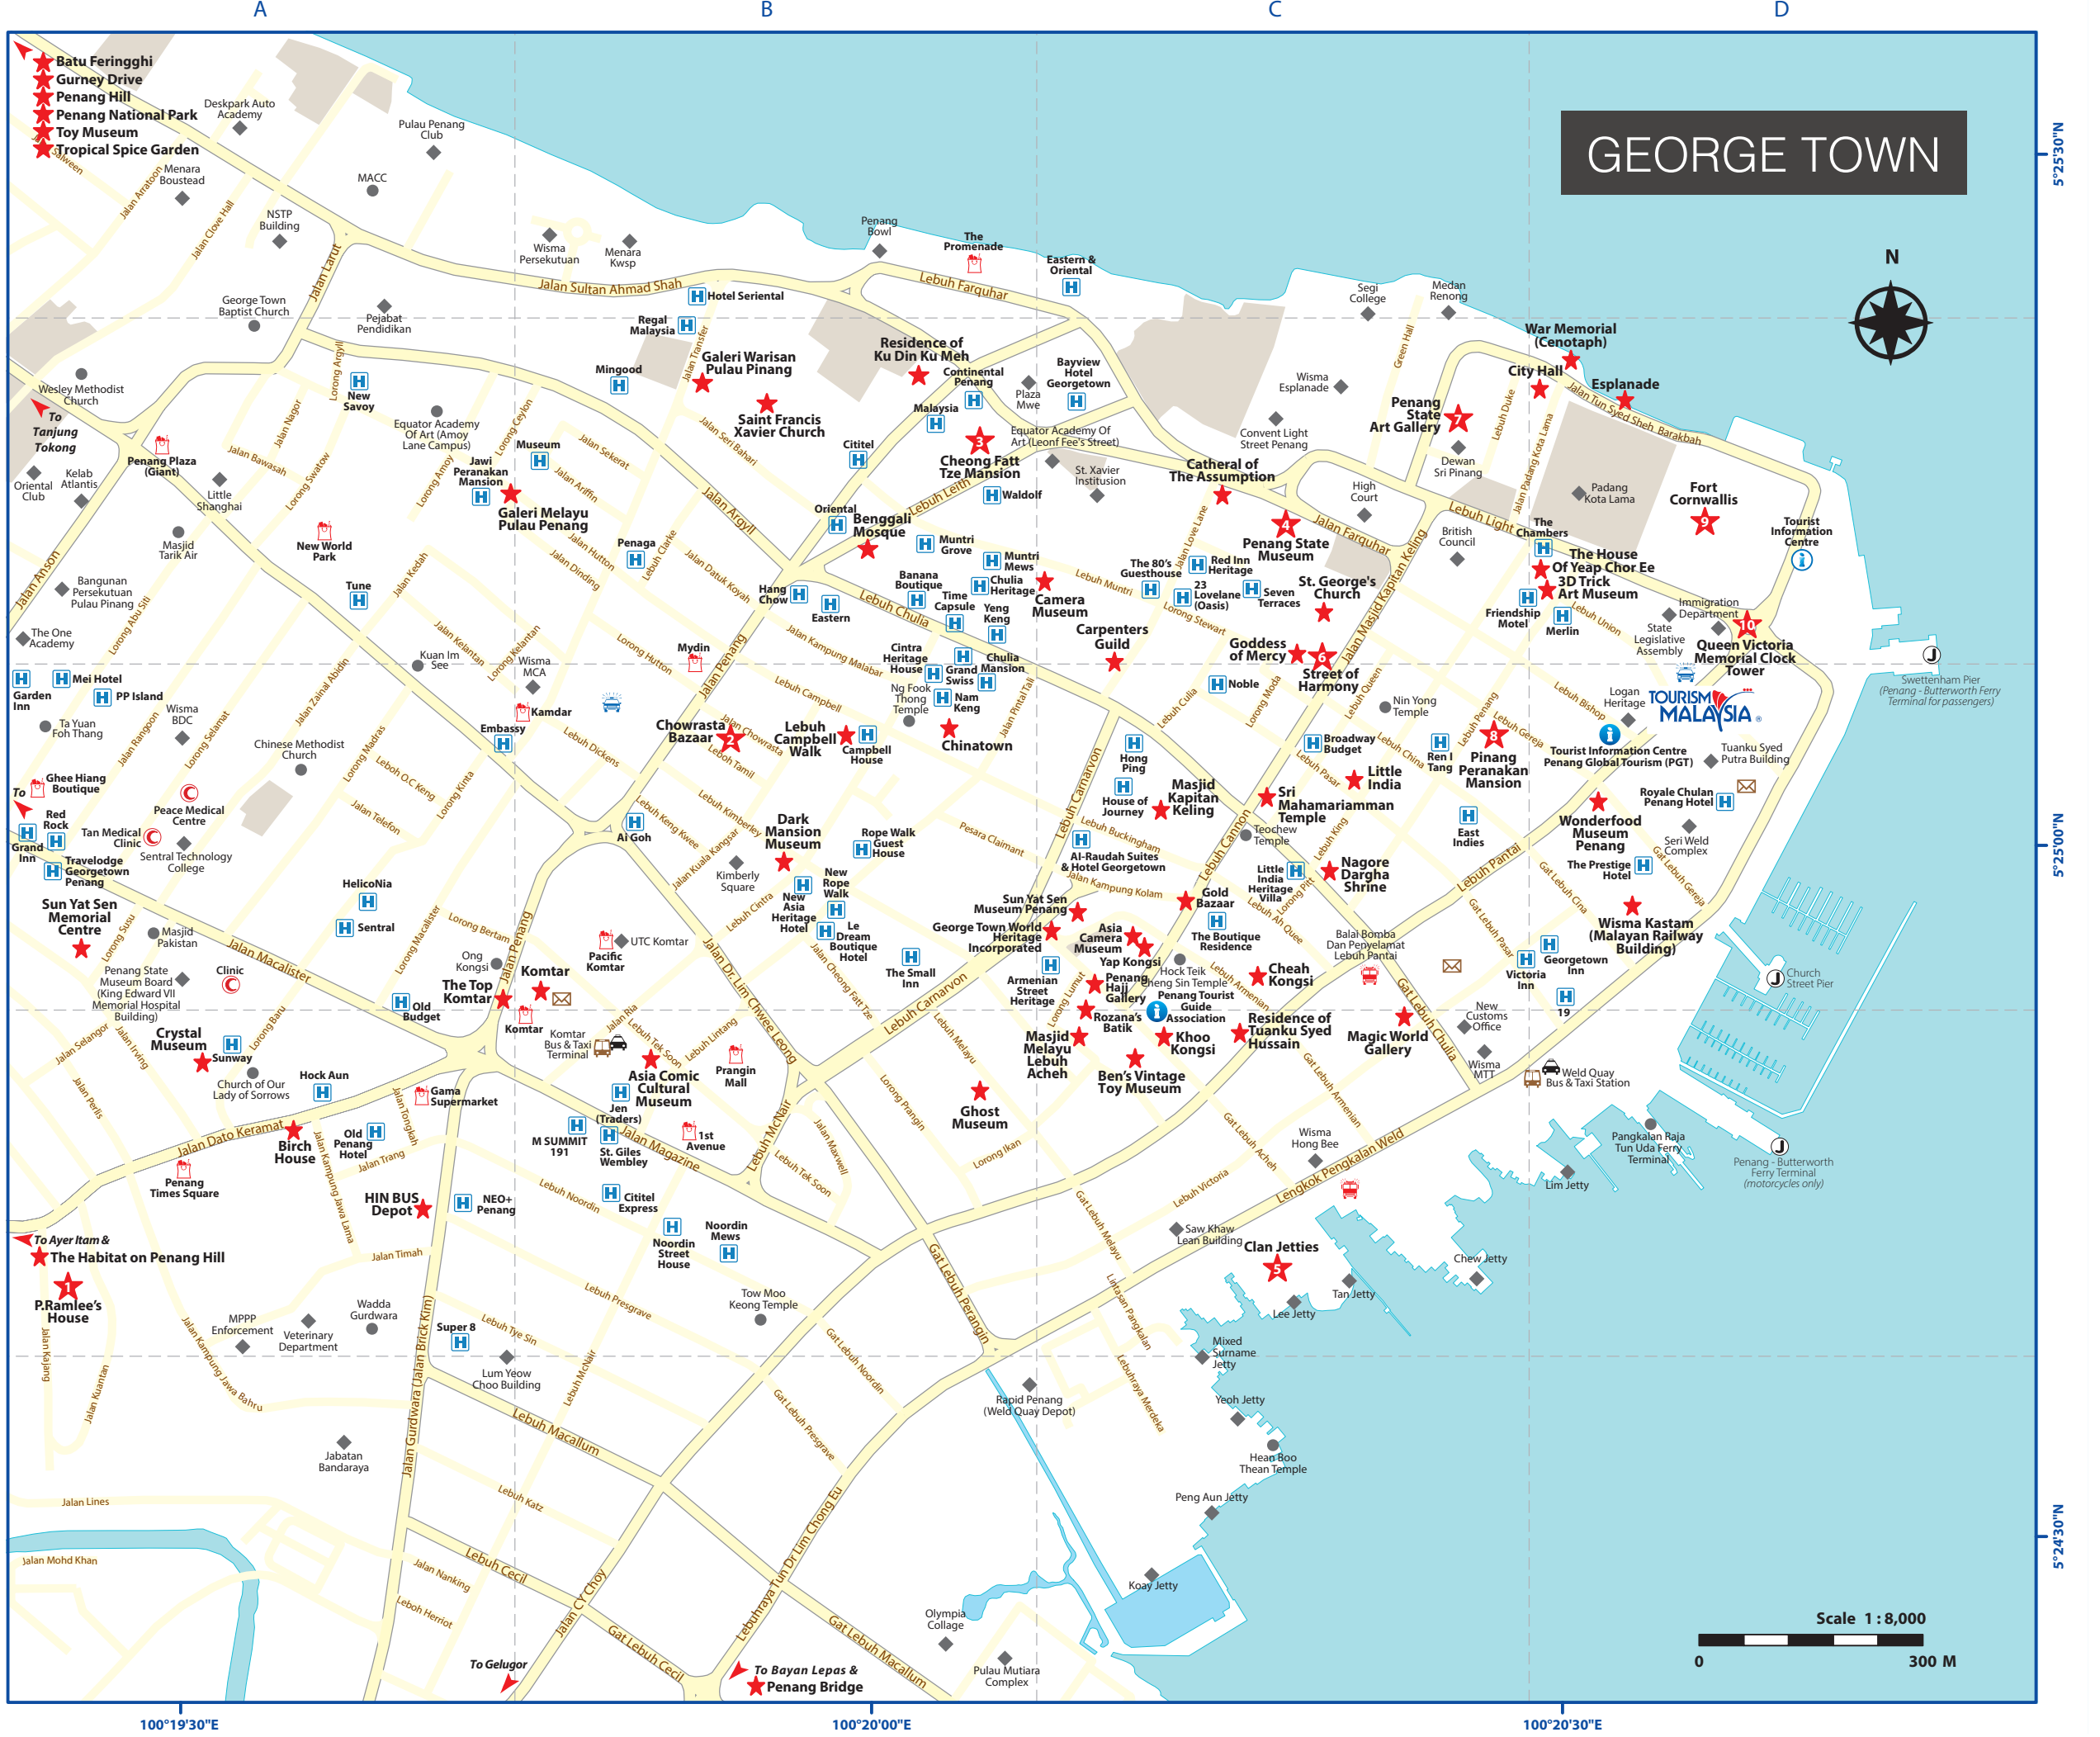

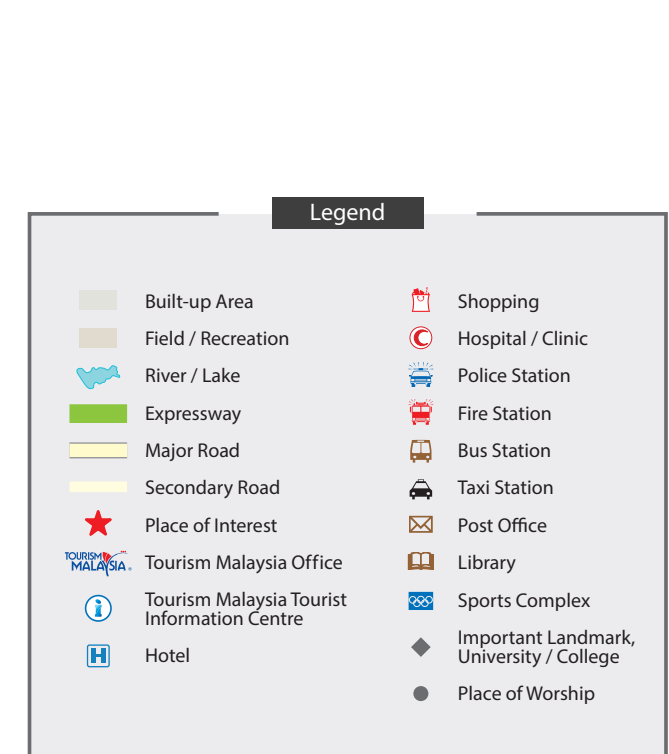

Penang's food scene is a must-try for visitors. Amidst numerous eateries spanning the streets, the local cuisine steals the show. From Chinese to Malay, Indian to Nyonya dishes, the choices are overwhelming. Don't miss out on street favourites like asam laksa, hokkien mee and char koay teow. Indulge in Peranakan delights such as mee siam and otak-otak. Nasi Kandar, an Indian Muslim specialty and coastal seafood eateries are also abundant, tempting you with their scrumptious offerings.

GH Getting Here

Penang is accessible by air from other cities in Malaysia as well as other parts of the world on a number of airlines, including Malaysia Airlines, AirAsia, Firefly and Batik Air. The Penang Bridge links the island to the mainland of Peninsular Malaysia, and from there on major highways to the rest of the peninsula and up north to Thailand. Rail travel to Penang from either the south or north terminates at Butterworth. There are also ferry services from Butterworth to the island for passengers and motorcyclists, as well as ferry services between Penang and Langkawi.

GA Getting Around

Getting around Penang is easy. You can hop on public transport and explore the state by taxis, buses or trishaws. If you're up for an easy and reliable ride, e-hailing services are always a great option. The Hop On Free Central Area Transit (CAT) takes visitors to George Town for free. Available every 15 minutes from 6.00am until midnight, it plies between the Weld Quay Jetty and KOMTAR, taking you to 19 stops within the city. You can also choose to travel the old-fashioned way and get on a trishaw and take in the sights at your own pace.

Malaysia

Situated in the heart of Southeast Asia, Malaysia is a vibrant destination with a diversity of cultures and traditions. This tropical paradise boasts pristine jungles and verdant national parks that are teeming with numerous species of birds and wildlife. Malaysia's sun-drenched islands and beaches are home to a stunning range of marine life. Its natural wealth is complemented by magnificent modern landmarks and heritage buildings. There is something to charm every visitor, be it a history-lover, nature-enthusiast, sun-seeker or an avid shopper. Explore the length and breadth of the country to discover the many attractions of Malaysia!

Penang

Penang is a bustling metropolis reflecting a unique blend of East and West, old and new. The capital, George Town, is steeped in history and has preserved a wealth of heritage buildings, leading to it being accorded a listing as a UNESCO World Cultural Heritage site. A compact city which can be easily covered on foot, George Town presents a picturesque facade with quaint side streets, colonial buildings and Chinese shophouses. The island boasts some of the best food in the region, with a wonderful array of street food found on practically every street corner. Home of the longest bridge in Malaysia and Southeast Asia, Penang with its fascinating history and rich cultural heritage has it all for an exotic vacation in Asia.
